U.S. FISHING BOAT SEIZED NEAR VICTORIA

St. Patrick, Tacoma, With Nine Men Aboard, Caught By Givenchy Sunday

Fishing Net Out and Nearly 2,000 Fish in Hold; to Be Held Here

Seized when fishing in Canadian waters off Discovery Island yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, the seiner St. Patrick, Tacoma, was to-day alongside the Ogden Point pier, in charge of the fisheries patrol steamer Givenchy, which made the seizure. The seized vessel was this afternoon turned over to the Canadian Customs Department, officials of which will hold an inquiry.

In the course of her regular border patrol, looking after the interests of Canadian fishermen, the Givenchy came upon the St. Patrick yesterday morning on the mainland side of Discovery Island. There was a fishing net out and some fish in the net. In the vessel's hatch, were between 1,500 and 2,000 fish, which were also seized with the vessel. The captain and crew of the craft made no objections when taken in charge, and this morning would make no statement.

NON-VENDING SLOT MACHINES ARE BARRED IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Aug. 31.—Efforts of Vancouver police to eliminate slot machines will be hampered by a recent decision of the Supreme Court of Canada, according to officials of the police department. This finding declares the devices of the vending type—that is, those which give the players merchandise for each coin inserted—are legal.

Scene of Greatest River Flood Disaster of Modern Times

Pictured within the outline map of China above are scenes along the Yangtze River, where the floods, coupled with later floods along the Grand Canal, 180 miles north of Nanking, have caused the greatest losses in the history of modern China. The two upper pictures give glimpses of the famous Bund, waterfront street of Hankow, which had grown into the most important of inland Chinese ports before it was almost completely submerged. The lower picture shows native boats, such as have gathered in hundreds at Hankow and Wuchang and Yangtze, which form a triangle of cities on the Yangtze. It is now accepted that at least 250,000 people lost their lives in the tri-city region, reports traced and verified indicating that total. As yet there is no authentic report as to the number of deaths along the Grand Canal, though it is known it was heavy.

B.C. Is To Share In Western Conference

Premier Or Other Cabinet Member Will Go to Regina; Uniform Relief Wage Scale For Provinces Is Objective

Either Premier Tolmie or one of the other members of the British Columbia Government will attend an interprovincial conference to be held at Regina next Thursday. Premier Tolmie called a meeting of Cabinet members this afternoon to decide who shall represent British Columbia at the gathering, which has been called on the initiative of the Saskatchewan Government to attain uniformity in relief wages in all four of the western provinces of Canada.

The situation is complicated by the fact that the government has made an appointment with the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities for a conference on Wednesday morning to discuss relief schemes for married residents of municipalities. The delegation to be headed by Mayor Bragden of North Vancouver will ask for release from any requirement to contribute toward the cost of public works initiated within their areas or on which married men may be employed.

The importance of this conference, to be followed next week by the annual convention of the Union at New Westminster, is considered by the government to require the presence in Victoria of both the Premier and the Minister of Public Works.

Whoever represents British Columbia at Regina will probably be accompanied by high officials of the Public Works Department who are familiar with the relief programme about to be initiated in all parts of the province.

UNIFORMITY SOUGHT
Regina, Aug. 31.—Uniformity of relief wages to be paid in the four western provinces will be the major consideration before the delegates at a meeting here this afternoon.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Carlton Jackson, commercial attaché at Rio de Janeiro, to-day cabled to the Commerce Department here that Brazil had barred imports of flour for the next eighteen months. SELF-DEFENCE IS CLAIMED IN FARM KILLING

J. Orosz Charged With Murder Following T. Van Velzen's Death Near Mission, B.C.

Mission City, B.C., Aug. 31.—Following a verdict by a coroner's jury that Theodore Van Velzen, forty, came to his death at the hands of John Orosz, a charge of murder was made against the twenty-six-year-old farm hand.

Orosz took the stand at the inquest and claimed self-defence. Dr. W. H. McIntyre testified that while the self-admitted killer declared a right had occurred, there were no marks of conflict on Orosz.

Van Velzen was a prosperous fruit grower. There were no witnesses of the murder, as Mrs. Van Velzen and her two children were in Vancouver, visiting their father, and a brother, Peter Van Velzen, a bachelor, was away on Vancouver Island at work.

Following the slaying Orosz, who speaks little English, was said to have gone to a neighboring farmer, H. Sheeley, who advised him to go to the police, which he did, walking two miles to the Mission City police office. There he was reported to have accused Chief of Police Vachon by explaining: "Man, he try to kill me, but I kill him."

Orosz was reported to have stated to the police he was resting in the bunk.

SUN WORKS TWO DAYS OVERTIME DURING AUGUST

Old Sol Puts in Eleven-hour Day For First Thirty Days This Month

Putting in an eleven-hour day to build up a total of forty-eight hours overtime, Old Sol furnished the only feature in August's weather activities. It was announced by F. Napier Denison of the Gonzales Hill Observatory to-day. This morning the sunshine aggregate for the first thirty days stood at 336 hours. With more sun expected this afternoon, the amount was expected to be slightly above that total.

In temperature the month was just 30 degrees above average, the mean being 60. On August 9 the thermometer in the screen on the hill-top registered 50 degrees, while on the grass yesterday morning it was down to 42.

LOW MARK
Still lower marks were recorded at the bottom of the hill, the temperature going down to 42 in the standard screen and 35 on the grass on August 23.

The city was far below average in rainfall, the August precipitation to date being only 1.6 inches, leaving a deficit of 46. However, the year is still ahead of the average by 4.27 inches, 17.69 having fallen.

JAIL BANDITS IN WINNIPEG

Magistrate Sentences Perpetrators of Three Daylight Robberies Last Week

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Three daylight hold-ups carried out last week on the edge of Winnipeg's downtown area to-day were balanced by four arrests and complete admission of guilt.

Harry Dundas, twenty-five, and Manley Connelley, twenty-four, New York, pleaded guilty in police court to-day to the $10,200 looting of a west-end Royal Bank of Canada branch Wednesday and were remanded for sentence.

A few minutes previously pleas of guilt had been entered by William May, twenty-three, and Delbert Heise, thirty-one, in connection with the robbery of two chain stores last Tuesday. Sentences of twelve and ten years, respectively, with ten lashes each, were imposed by Magistrate R. M. Noble. Five-year sentences, to run concurrently, were imposed for theft of a motorcar.

An inquest on Mr. Moss will be held at Currie's Funeral Parlor at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Nations' Armed Forces Under League Direction Is New Plan Suggested

Paris, Aug. 31.—A proposal the nations of the world place their armed forces under the control of the League of Nations and a prediction France would lead the way in the 1932 disarmament conference was made to-day by Joseph Paul Boncour, foreign affairs chairman of the Chamber of Deputies, in a statement to the Associated Press.

Albert Moss, printer, 1334 Johnson Street, died within two hours after the accident and James Roberts, chauffeur, residing at the Y.M.C.A., sustained a broken thigh and other serious injuries, when the sedan car which Mr. Moss was driving plunged over the side of the Malahat yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock and dropped fifty feet down the rugged mountain side.

Mr. Roberts is in the Jubilee Hospital and, unless complications set in from the compound fracture, is expected to recover. Mr. Moss, as well as Mr. Roberts, was a veteran and member of the tuberculosis branch of the Canadian Legion. He was in receipt of a pension for ill health as a result of being gassed overseas. He was a printer in the employ of Diggon's limited, but was unable to work full time. He was married, his wife living in Vancouver, but leaves no children.

Mr. Roberts is a chauffeur but has not been employed since he left hospital a few months ago. He is a widower and has a son Jack in the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve. When the accident occurred Mr. Moss was driving north. He had only recently purchased the car and was taking his first trip at the wheel over the Malahat. He had reached the twisting, hilly part of the drive about a quarter of a mile south of Malahat Lookout, near the big rock bluff which, although one of the most difficult parts of the road, is not regarded as dangerous for experienced drivers. It is believed the approach of a car caused him to swing his wheel sharply and plunge the car over the embankment.

TRAIL DOWN MOUNTAIN SIDE
Automobiles and workers at the Bamerton cement works assisted Constables Hughes and Locke in rendering aid to the accident victims and appreciation of their help was expressed this morning by Constable Hughes. The road slopes gradually down a distance of about 100 feet before the fifty-foot drop and it was necessary to secure a cable from the Bamerton works before helpers reached the two injured men. The cable was made fast to the fence by the side of the road through which the car had crashed. A trail also had to be cut with axes.

After all the aid possible had been given to ease the sufferings of the victims, Constables Hughes and Locke got up the steep grade, first brought Mr. Roberts back on the highway on a stretcher. Dr. L. McIver lowered himself down by the cable to attend to Mr. Moss. Both legs were smashed and his pelvis injured. His shoulder was broken and he had been suffering for two hours before it was possible to reach him to render medical aid. He died within five minutes after the doctor reached him.

Dr. McIver voiced the opinion this morning that shock, rather than injuries caused death. The victims of the accident were taken to Victoria in a C. and C. ambulance. Mr. Roberts is reported to be progressing fairly well at the Jubilee Hospital.

Just beyond the fence which the automobile crashed through before it went over the chasm are two large arbutus trees. Had the car hit one of them the tragedy would probably have been averted but it slid between the two.

An inquest on Mr. Moss will be held at Currie's Funeral Parlor at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

struggle for the reduction and limitation of armaments. "When the disarmament conference agrees on the actual figures of the defence strength of each country," he said, "our idea is, these forces should cease to be forces left entirely to the disposition of these countries and that there should be an international mortgage on them." "I mean the Council of the League of Nations, when face to face with a case of proved war of aggression, should be empowered under article 16 of the League Covenant to make use of them to settle a war crisis." The statement said that in his opinion the disarmament conference would be the gravest event since the war.

TARIFF WALLS IN EUROPE ARE BEING ATTACKED

Economic Co-ordinating Committee Meets at Geneva Under League Auspices

Geneva, Aug. 31.—A vigorous attack on protective tariff systems was renewed under League of Nations auspices to-day when political chiefs and economic experts of twenty-six nations gathered here as an economic co-ordinating committee of the committee for European union.

A direct indictment of tariff walls as one of the fundamental causes of the prevailing world depression will be placed before Europeans in the report of economic experts who have been studying Europe's need since the last session of the commission in May.

As long as the free movement of goods is obstructed by high customs duties, the report is said to declare, there is no chance for an improvement in Europe and the world's grave economic situation.

Restrictions on the international movement of capital and labor also are attacked along with tariffs as contributing to the world's ills.

BRITAIN'S POSITION
The general assault on tariffs is stimulated by the fact that the British Government may have protective legislation for its industries enacted. Under the impulse of this fear of a number of continental countries are anxious to obtain some agreement for stabilizing existing tariffs and preparing a way for lowering them.

Such action, it is felt, would strengthen the beleaguered free trade sentiment in Great Britain. Continental economists have asserted the erection of protective tariff walls by Great Britain would set loose unrestricted economic warfare throughout the world.

Some political observers have expressed belief a British protective system would be a world catastrophe.

Another influence for general tariff reduction which is almost certain to make itself felt in the co-ordinating committee's work is a part of the "Wiggin bankers' committee report. The bankers denounced artificial obstacles to commerce as an essential factor in the European and world economic dislocation.

Paper Declares For Full Finance Reform in Britain

Manchester, Eng., Aug. 31.—A phrase used by Premier MacDonald in a letter to his constituents—"It is the war over again"—was the text of an editorial in The Guardian to-day. "The war did weld the nation together except for a handful, of whom Mr. MacDonald was one," The Guardian said. "The financial crisis has not cemented the nation; it is tearing it apart. But the war analogy holds in some respects."

Just as in August, 1914, this country was almost paralysed, as circumstances then existed, to enter the war, so was it necessary a week ago to fight the financial panic. But in both cases the necessity could not be allowed to stand. The war analogy holds in some respects. "The financial crisis has not cemented the nation; it is tearing it apart. But the war analogy holds in some respects."

The Guardian maintained the Labor party must do its share in establishing a thorough-going financial and economic reform. "There is no reason in the world to think them courageous enough to be revolutionists," the newspaper added. "It would be a safe gamble to force the Labor party to declare itself."

TORONTO FAIR SETS RECORDS

Toronto, Aug. 31.—While Toronto regiments paraded in full force Saturday before Earl Bessie, Admiral of the British Fleet, and General Sir Arthur Currie, who was commander of the Canadian army during the Great War, and is now principal of McGill University, crowds thronged into the Canadian National Exhibition to see the attendance up far above last year's figures.

Attendance totaled 126,000, compared with 85,000 on the second day last year. The increase of the first two days of the exhibition over attendance in 1930 was 52,000.

Strong winds and rough seas on Lake Ontario forced postponement of the women's amateur one-mile swim and of the dinghy and sailing races. The swim was postponed till tomorrow.

Cleaning Fluid Is Cause of Death

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 29.—Police investigating the death of Mrs. Maude Delveiler, forty, whose body was found in a bathtub yesterday, said to-day they were convinced the divorcee died accidentally. An autopsy revealed the woman apparently had died of suffocation. Police said fumes from a cleaning fluid Mrs. Delveiler was using overcame her, but that she had gone into the bathroom of her apartment and turned on the water in the bathtub before collapsing. The body lay with the head under the stream of water in the tub, which was draining as quickly as the water ran in. At first it was thought Mrs. Delveiler might have drowned while unconscious.

LINDBERGH SAYS CANADIANS MADE HIS TRIP POSSIBLE

"Particularly invaluable were the gasoline caches scattered through the northwest Dominion which were placed at our disposal," he told Acting Charge d'Affaires Kenneth Kirkwood. "It would have been impossible for me to make such preparations this year."

He commented warmly on the hospitality and help he and his wife had received from the government, as well as the Canadian people. He referred to the Canadian side of his ancestry, mentioning his maternal great-grandfather, Col. John Land, who founded Hamilton, Ont.

CELEBRATION IN ULSTER BRINGS OUT GUARDS

Newry, Northern Ireland, Aug. 29.—The assembling of 20,000 members of the Royal Black Institution, a wing of the Orangemen, caused authorities to-day to take extraordinary precautions to forestall possible outbreaks in and around this Ulster border town.

In view of the train wrecking incident a fortnight ago, when the Ulstermen met at Armagh, officials were taking no chances. Police were stationed at every 100 yards along the track between Belfast and Newry, every bridge was guarded and hundreds of additional police were imported.

A speed laradio was installed at police headquarters so that in the event of disturbances immediate communication could be established with the military, who had orders to stand by in barracks.

Up to late forenoon no untoward incident had occurred.

"Originals" Get Together

Hear How Victoria Was Saved After They Left For First Time Since War

W. J. Bowser, K.C., Tells of Purchasing of Chilean Submarines

But Alex Stewart, Mayor in 1914, Says They Had No Torpedoes

"Bill" Eden, Who Fired First Shot From Field Gun at Germans, Attends

J. R. McIlreath Led First Trench Raid; C. R. Wilson Pipes Boys Over Top

Seventeen years after the "Originals" left Victoria to knock the Kaiser out of his grandstand seat in the sun and make the acquaintance of Mademoiselle from Armentieres, they held their first reunion. They wondered how the dear little Mademoiselle was getting on in her old age, but they had no second thought for bearded Bill Hohenzollern, who now has to stick in his own backyard and look at the world through a knothole in the fence.

It was last Saturday night that these wonderful veterans got together. They assembled at the Empress Hotel, formed a Red Chevron Association, listened to how Victoria was saved after they left—how the German flag hoisted on its City Hall, because two Chilean submarines were purchased by a Conservative Government; how, some secrets that now are sold, and in the end had a real good soldiers' party. It was a great gathering. There were no boys in the party; most of them were getting along to the point in life where the furrows deepen in the brow, the eye dims and glasses are needed, the hair thins and greys, and the body loses its trim of youth.

CASUALTIES

Here was a veteran with a black cast over an eye that was gone. Three men each had a gloved hand; it was artificial. Several limped, one of their legs had been left behind. Some are still nursing stomach wounds; others are fighting the effects of gas.

There were just eighty of them, survivors of the 560 officers and men of the Fifth Brigade, 20th Gordon Highlanders and 88th Fusiliers, who composed the first contingent of troops to leave Victoria in August, 1914, for the Great War. Over 400 of them never came back; they made the long trip west.

And in this little band of "Originals" were some great heroes, men whose names are almost unknown and whose deeds have been forgotten.

There was Lieut. J. R. McIlreath, a man whose worst battles to-day are in the law courts. Yet this large, fine-looking man, was the leader of the first trench raid ever conducted in the Great War. And near him at the table sat Capt. W. Merston, now known to Victorians as the owner of the Beach Hotel. Merston was a scout sergeant under McIlreath and participated in this memorable raid with fifty other men from the Seventh Brigade. The night of November, 1915, the raid was made at Messines. A box barrage was thrown over the sector to be raided but the artillery failed to out the wire properly. This had to be done by hand and delayed the progress of the party somewhat, but the Germans to whom this form of warfare was unknown, were unaware of their danger. The Canadians were three feet from the German front line before they were detected. They leaped in with hand grenades and rifles and killed many Germans, and when they had cleaned things up brought back thirteen prisoners as prisoners. The raiders lost only one man, who was accidentally killed.

The German sentry who might have raised the alarm and saved some of his comrades was killed by a bullet from an officer's revolver. McIlreath was the officer.

"Raiding became quite a popular pastime after that," said McIlreath Saturday night.

And at the next table sat W. E. "Bill" Eden, now passed the age where he would be eligible for active service. He lives at the corner of Chambers Street and Caldecott Avenue, and is a painter by trade. "Bill" fired the first shot the Canadian artillery directed behind German lines. "Bill" recalled the trick well. He was gun-layer on an eighteen-pounder in the First Battery, First Division. They were on a soft spot in the line as the division had only been sent a little seasoning. At 9:30 o'clock on the morning of March 9, 1915, "Bill" got an order to "fire," and he sent an eighteen-pounder across "No Man's Land" to call on Fritz.

Grouped at the table of artillerymen were the three Carter boys, Elmer, Vere and Howdy. They all went away with the first contingent and they all came home. Howdy is now with the fire department. Vere is with the Customs department, and Elmer is a cooper.

One of the men who was the life of the party on Saturday was Captain C. R. Wilson, who is laughing his way through life and trying to get cows to give more milk. Wilson wants the world to know he is a Scotswoman, so he carries his kilt around with him and plays all the tunes that ever came out of the hills of Scotland. Wilson, however, was born in Australia, and you can tell that when you see him. But he was a piper in the Gordon Highlanders here when the war broke out and he piped the boys all over Valcartier, through the mud at Salisbury Plain and over the top in France. During the second battle of Ypres he got in company with a German shell and lost his bagpipes and went to hospital. A year later he got his bagpipes back, but the bag that carried all the wind was missing. It was made out of kangaroo skin and Wilson regretted its loss. The pipes had been recaptured when the Canadians drove back the Germans and

Steadiness, Manifest in Days of Canadian Corps, Required to Bring Nation Through to Destiny That Is Her's, Says Old Commander in Letter to "Originals"

Canada still has her Ypres and Vimy and requires the steadiness and all the spirit of the days of the Canadian Corps to carry her through to the destiny that is her's, according to Sir Arthur Currie, war-time commander of the Canadian troops in France. A letter from Sir Arthur was read at the first gathering of the "Originals" at the Empress Hotel on Saturday evening. The letter is as follows:

My dear Colonel:—I note with pleasure that it is the intention to have a dinner in the near future to mark the anniversary of the departure from Victoria of the men of the 5th, 10th and 18th, who, seventeen years ago, set out on the "great adventure." I am sorry that I cannot be with you in person, but I shall be with you in spirit.

"It is always a pleasure for me to meet and greet again the men I knew in other places, and of living again, if only for a few precious hours, those friendships formed in other days and amidst less peaceful scenes.

"There are many clubs and many organizations with which we are often fortunate enough to associate and to mingle. But you will gather under circumstances most unique. You belong to a band that is more exclusive than any other with which you can possibly be brought into contact. You are a fraternity in which no money can purchase membership, no influence can open its doors, no social or intellectual or financial standing can obtain for an applicant an entrance. There is only one test applied, and that test is absolute—the test of immediate enlistment in the service of our country in the days of war when the trumpet of freedom sounded the call for complete defence in August, 1914. That is a tie that binds you together to-night, and of that tie you ought to be justly proud.

TREASURED MEMORIES

"If each of you could, by some means, take into the mind of your fellows, you would see strange and diverse things. There would be memories, all different to each one of you, but all composed of the same—memories of August 4, 1914, of enlistment; of farewells; of Val Cartier, and other training grounds; of ocean voyages with destroyers in attendance and the possible meeting with submarines; of English camps; of orders to proceed to France; of the crossing to St. Nazaire; of the first night in the line; of the first meeting with the enemy; of the setting down to the routine of war as to the day's work; of Ypres and other battles; of hospitals for many; of the tragic experiences of war, and many other recollections to each other, but they are all treasured memories and they cannot be obliterated by time.

"I am one of those who have always contended that the work of the Canadian Corps did not end with the Armistice and that the service of the corps, or the members of the corps, to our country was not concluded when we mustered out.

"I have spoken of some memories, but there are others equally vivid. To many others comes the memory of the resourcefulness, the ingenuity, the flexibility, the hopefulness and the courage of the Canadian citizen soldier. The war was a triumph of average character. The average man proved that he could not be beaten by circumstances. He proved his dependability. He proved his unselfishness, his capacity for mutual trust, his devotion to his comrades and to a cause, his willingness to fight and to die, if need be, for the maintenance of the tradition on which his country was founded. When we recall these things to-day there is no longer room for fainting hearts and craven fear. There is no longer place for terror of foes from without or treachery from within. You are veterans, but that does not mean that you are old men, or worn-out, or that you have outlived your usefulness. Some of you, of course, show the signs of the experience of war, and you are not the men physically you once were, and your needs must ever be safe in the keeping of your comrades and your country, but for those of you who are strong, there is still much for you to do for that country which, at one time, you were so proud to serve. Canada still has her Ypres, her Vimy, her Passchendaele, her Canal du Nord. She needs all the steadiness and all the spirit of the old corps days to carry her through to the destiny that is her's. You will best honor the memory of your war service, and of your fallen comrades, by standing together in these days of peace as you stood together in days of war, and by giving to your country the same devotion that you so proudly rendered in the days you celebrate to-night.

Please remember me most kindly to all my old comrades.

The "Originals" decided to send a telegram to Sir Arthur thanking him for his letter and wishing him good luck. Col. Ross Napier was the mover of the resolution and General R. P. Clark seconded it.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., for its thoughtful remembrance and the sprigs of heather which appeared at each plate.

Officers were stood over until October, when a smoking concert will be held.

IS YOUR INDIGESTION DUE TO YOUR BREAD

Those pains after eating, that discomfort which keeps you awake at night, that unpleasant sense of fullness—are they due to the bread you have been eating? Doctors know that half the cases of digestive troubles are mainly caused by white bread.

For white bread is full of useless moisture and half raw starch. All the nourishment has been refined out of it in the milling, and with the nourishment has gone all the "roughage" which nature intended to stimulate the processes of digestion and elimination. No wonder it causes indigestion and constipation and unfortunately most so-called wholemeal bread is just as bad.

Try Ryvita for a change and see how quickly your indigestion goes—Ryvita is in no way a medicated bread or invalid food. It is simply pure, crushed whole grain rye—and rye is much more nutritious than wheat. It is very rich in vitamins and in the salts of lime, iron and phosphorus which are needed to build up bone, teeth and muscle.

Besides Ryvita is bread in the ideal form, practically free of moisture, crisp, crunchy, compelling proper mastication and perfectly delicious in any way you take ordinary bread.

Start the Ryvita habit today. You can eat as much of it as you like without suffering indigestion, without getting fat. Indeed it will make you fit and keep you slim.

Any grocer can supply you with Ryvita, 50c, the large carton (40-50 slices), or 25c, the smaller carton (20-25 slices), but if you would like to try it free first, send this coupon for a free sample of once.

PRETTTY WEDDING AT ROYAL OAK

Miss Olive Gwen Harris Married to Herbert J. W. Reed; Big Reception

Rev. F. Conley united in marriage at St. Michael's and All Angels, Royal Oak Bay, on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Olive Gwen Harris, daughter of Mr. Arthur Harris and the late Mrs. Harris of Metcalm, and Herbert J. W. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Reed, "Shanawan," Santa Claire Road, Elk Lake. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with gladioli in pastel shades of mauve and pink and other summer blossoms with greenery. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and looked charming in her trill gown of mauve French nixon and hat of mohair embroidered to match. She wore a string of pearls and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and white heather, with maiden-hair fern.

Miss Dorothy Campbell made a dainty bridesmaid in a smart gown of pastel shades of yellow with hat to match and carried a nosegay of gladioli of the same shades. The groom was supported by Mr. Vincent Catterall, Cordova Bay. Ushers were Mr. Benjie Holland and Mr. Ed Robinson. The church was filled to overflowing with relatives and friends of the bride and groom, who joined in singing the hymn, "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us," with Mrs. A. G. Jackson presiding at the organ. During the signing of the register Mrs. A. P. Zala, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. H. Lynn, sang very sweetly, "All Joy Be Thine."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Royal Oak Hall, when the happy couple received their guests under an arch of asparagus fern and pale pink ivy geraniums with large silver bell, tied with a true lover's knot. The hall was decorated in a color scheme of mauve and pink with woodwork. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. H. H. Reed, received the guests in a very becoming gown of midnight blue with ecru point lace and black mohair hat embroidered in blue and pink to match. She was assisted by Mrs. H. H. Reed, the bride's sister-in-law, in navy blue georgette and lace with jacket to match and close fitting hat. Their corsage bouquets were of violas, pink roses and gardenias. A three-tier wedding cake with streamers of mauve and pink graced the centre of the supper table when over a hundred guests sat down to supper. Mr. Edward Blair proposed the toast to the bride and groom, the groom responding. The evening afterwards was spent in old-time songs and dancing, when Mr. Blair as master of ceremonies and Mr. F. Pitt as piano, Mr. Blair sang several old-time songs.

The young couple were given a very hearty send off on their motor trip up the island.

ONLY CANADIAN BARON IS DEAD

Baron of Longueuil Dies in France; Title Conferred in 1700

Montreal, Aug. 31.—The eighth Baron of Longueuil, age seventy-two, holder of the only ancient hereditary Canadian title, died recently in France. He was Reginald Charles Grant of Berwick, St. Helene and as he had no children the title goes to his half-brother, John Moore, de Bienville Charles Grant, who resides in England. The Longueuil title was conferred in January, 1700, by King Louis XIV of France and was recognized by Queen Victoria in 1880. It is open to female succession.

The late baron was born in 1856 and succeeded to the title in 1896. In 1891 he married the late Kate Isabel Constance. He lived at Pau, France, and though he had never been in Canada he was well acquainted with the affairs of the Dominion generally, and in particular those of the province of Quebec.

EDITH CAVELL SERVICE HELD

Annual Memorial Gathering at Jasper Park Mountain Yesterday

Jasper Park Lodge, Alta., Aug. 31.—Grouped on the rock-strewn ice at the foot of Angel Glacier on Mount Edith Cavell, guests of Jasper Park Lodge and residents of the little mountain town of Jasper yesterday honored the memory of the British war nurse, for whom the majestic peak was named as Canada's tribute to the unflinching courage of a great patriot and a greater Christian.

The annual memorial service was conducted by Rev. H. A. Edwards, rector of the Anglican Church of St. Mary's and St. George, Jasper. "It is the humble thanksgiving to God for Nurse Cavell's exhibition of courage and her faithfulness to the basic principle of her profession—to save life at whatever personal cost—that the memorial service is held each year at the foot of this majestic peak," declared the rector during the course of his brief address.

"We who stand beneath this giant rock, which stands forever to immortalize her gallantry, may well profit from the last words of the heroic nurse: 'But this I would say, standing as I do in the light of God and eternity, I realize that patriotism is not enough. I must have no hatred or bitterness toward anyone.'"

The strains of "Last Post" echoed from the sheer rock walls of Mount Zorow, and were lost in the murmur of the waters flowing from the glacier to empty into the lake of forgiveness. As the last sacred note faded into the shadows, the congregation rose to sing the words of "Abide With Me," and to feel perhaps, the glory of that Christian woman, who repeated the beautiful words of the hymn on the eve of her execution, October 12, 1915.

SIR T. STANTON IS FOUND DEAD

Canad. Press
Prevenay Bay, Sussex, Eng., Aug. 31.—The body of Sir Thomas Stanton, sixty-five, perhaps the most brilliant scientific engineer in Great Britain, was found on the beach here to-day. Sir Thomas had a bungalow here and spent his holidays on this part of the shore.

His last work prior to retiring from practice recently was in connection with the restoration of St. Paul's Cathedral in London. Recently he had undergone an operation and expected another would be necessary.

Sir Thomas was superintendent of the engineering department of the National Physical Laboratory. He

Tells Why She Advises Women To Shun The Wash Basin

Edna Wallace Hopper, "The One Woman in the World Who Never Grew Old," Reveals Why, at Past 60, She Has Never Washed Her Face

WHEN I first said that I credited much of the fact that, at over 60, people say that I have the skin of a girl of 20 to the total avoidance of having washed my face since childhood, it startled women almost out of their chairs. I don't believe in cleansing the face with anything but oil. I know that women use this way or that. Ordinary commercial methods of all sorts. Soap and water, for instance. But not me.

I use only a bland oil cleanser in liquid form. I honestly believe that this is one of the chief reasons why I've managed to retain youth as well as I have. Why I am famous the world over as "The One Woman in the World Who Never Grew Old."

The name of the bland oil cleanser I use instead of soap and water is Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth. The distinguished French beauty scientist who gave me this method told me it was the only safe way for women to cleanse the skin.

Edna Wallace Hopper

That other methods were prone to take out of the skin the precious "oil of youth." Cause the skin to become old looking and lined. You can get Facial Youth at any toilet counter. Full directions come with every bottle. You use instead of soap and water. Watch how it dissolves the make-up, grease and dirt on your skin. Removes every particle. Leaves the skin soft, smooth, clean.

RADIO ARTISTE DISAPPEARS

Fears That Ada Pennie
Drowned in Fraser River
Near Lillooet

Lillooet, B.C., Aug. 31.—Fears for the safety of Ada Pennie, former Hollywood radio star, missing since Friday morning, are intensified by a report that the young woman was last seen standing in the middle of an old railway bridge over the Fraser Friday afternoon.

Search parties sent out Saturday morning failed to find any trace of the young woman.

Victim a few years ago of a nervous breakdown, Miss Pennie was recently upset by refusal of U.S. immigration authorities to readmit her to the United States when she tried to return to California to resume her radio singing career. She was known both to Edmonton and Vancouver radio fans, having recently returned home from Vancouver.

She had been staying here with her aunt, Mrs. Alice M. Manson. When the young woman failed to come home Friday night, Mrs. Manson did not worry, as she had been in the habit of visiting her cousins, Mrs. Howard Reed and Mrs. G. E. Prosser. When an Indian woman reported having seen her on the railway bridge, however, her relatives became alarmed. The Indian woman stated that Miss Pennie suddenly seemed to disappear from the bridge. When she left home, Miss Pennie was clad in a house dress and wore no hat.

EARL'S DAUGHTER HAS OPERATION

Lady Gwendoline Jellicoe Still in Montreal Hospital; Parents

Canad. Press
Montreal, Aug. 31.—Lady Gwendoline Jellicoe, daughter of Earl Jellicoe, the admiral of the fleet, was "resting comfortably," according to a brief report to-day from Royal Victoria Hospital. She underwent a serious operation yesterday, following an acute attack of gastritis.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 31.—The illness of the daughter, Lady Gwendoline Jellicoe, who underwent an operation for gastritis in Montreal Saturday evening, caused Earl Jellicoe to cut short his Ontario visit and hurry back to the Quebec city Saturday night.

At noon Saturday in brilliant sunshine, the admiral of the fleet unveiled a tall granite cross erected by people of Scarborough township, on the outskirts of Toronto, in memory of those of that district who fell in the Great War.

Earl Jellicoe was at the unveiling base at the entrance to the exhibition grounds as the Canadian National Exhibition Warior's Day parade passed in review before him and Sir Arthur Currie, wartime commander of the Canadian corps in France.

A prediction that Canada would become the geographical centre and leading nation of the British Empire marked the speech given by the admiral at the directors' luncheon of the Canadian National Exhibition Saturday. He recorded in the war, he said, amply demonstrated the energy and spirit of her people.

DIVORCED THIRTY-FOUR YEARS, COUPLE ARE REUNITED BY GRANDCHILDREN

A love that has spanned sixty-three years and even withstood divorce, has flowered again in the announcement of the wedding of Norville Williams, eighty-six, of Niles, Ill., and Mrs. Emma Martin, eighty, of Chicago, both of whom are shown above. They were married in 1868 and after their five children were grown, were divorced in 1897. Their great-grandchildren, great-grandchildren and grandchildren succeeded in getting them together, and Williams declares that he always wanted to go back, anyway, because Emma was his first love.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

BOWLEGS ARE INDICATIVE OF RICKETS

There are ways in which a baby shows an observant mother that his nutrition is faulty. First, he does not gain as much as the average baby his age should gain weekly or monthly. Second, he may be up to weight, but his teeth will not erupt properly. Third, he does not have the number of teeth to be expected at his age, or his long bones are soft and, therefore, bend under his weight. Even babies who walk quite young do not suffer from bowlegs unless their bones lack the solidity which comes from the right kind of food and sufficient sunshine.

SUNSHINE SUPPLEMENTS DIET

This last, sufficient sunshine, is a commodity easy to get in the summer-time. But during the long winter months babies suffer greatly from a lack of sunshine, so in winter we furnish them this mysterious element in sunshine by giving daily doses of cod liver oil. With sunshine or with cod liver oil the minerals in the baby's diet are enabled to do their full duty. Even a good diet can't always prevent a baby's sufficient sunshine or sufficient cod liver oil along with it.

Mrs. F. B.'s baby has developed bowlegs. "My baby is fifteen months old and weighs twenty-two pounds, having weighed seven and one-half at birth. She has sunburns and cod liver oil and orange juice. She stood on her feet at seven months, and walked at ten months. She is perfect except that she is terribly bowlegged."

GOOD DIET REQUIRED

Cod liver oil and orange juice are, of course, essential parts of a perfect diet, but they are not all of it. You did not say what other foods the child had the first year. A proper milk formula, cereal and vegetables are essential, too. The baby is slightly underweight.

The bowlegs are indications of rickets. Rickets is a deficiency of faulty nutrition which results in poor bony development. The deformities of rickets tend to cure themselves readily if taken in time. "Taken in time" means to furnish the child with a perfect diet, complete in every nutritional element, so that the bony development may continue apace. In addition to cod liver oil and a good diet, it is essential to give the child ultra-violet ray treatments to speed up the normal bony development.

Perhaps you would enjoy having my diet list for babies of this age. "Week's Menu for Child One to Two Years." With the leaflet you won't be in any doubt of what constitutes a perfect diet. A self-addressed, stamped envelope will secure any of the department's leaflets. Send your request to the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

CALGARY ARTISTS WIN AT BANFF

Banff, Alta., Aug. 31.—Getting a standard so much higher than last year that Professor Collingwood, F.R.C.S., F.T.L., dean of the faculty of music, University of Saskatchewan, commented upon the fact that the competitors in the annual Scottish song competition of the Banff Highland gathering provided such close competition that awards were earned on points fractions.

Peter H. Kirkpatrick of Calgary won the Walter Scott Challenge Trophy for the second consecutive year. This trophy, presented by Walter Scott of New York City, is awarded to the competitor who in the adjudicators' opinion is most worthy to receive it. The boys and girls under twelve years of age uncovered some remarkable talent. This was won by James A. Jenkins of Calgary, a tiny singer possessing a voice of astonishing sweetness. Mary B. Bowman, another Calgary boy, took second prize.

In the adult competitions, Mrs. H. D. Powers of Calgary took first and Miss Dorothy Blackwell of Edmonton, second, in the soprano class. Mrs. Mamie Hodgkinson, Calgary, and Miss Dorothy Blackwell, Edmonton, first and second respectively in the contralto.

Peter H. Kirkpatrick and A. B. Riddan, both of Calgary, first and second respectively in the tenor, and Fred J. Jarvis and Arnold E. Murray, also of Calgary, took the award in the bass. Miss D. H. Powers and James Rintoul of Calgary, received first awards in the duets. Unequal voices, with Miss Beattie Cannon and A. B. Riddan, also of Calgary, second.

In the special Gaelic competition first award went to Mrs. Mamie Hodgkinson, Calgary, and second to Miss Gladys L. MacIntyre, Calgary.

Guests registered at Brents Lodge, Brentwood, recently included Mrs. and Mr. E. H. Allen, Los Angeles; Miss M. E. Smith, Miss Dorothy Shipley, Col. Frank McDermott, Miss Ella Dyer, all of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Travis, Toronto; Mr. A. L. Byron and A. Byron Jr., Portland.

RELIEF SCHEME HIGHWAY WORK OPENS TUESDAY

Hon. R. W. Bruhn Announces
Immediate Start of Big Programme

Federal Government Repudiates Responsibility For Further Delays

Senator Gideon Robertson, Federal Minister of Labor, has notified the Dominion Government that the Dominion Government will not accept responsibility for further delays in initiation of public works for relief of unemployment. The Dominion has agreed to pay one-half the cost of constructing or improving the Transcanada Highway and forty per cent of expenditures made on all other provincial roadways. Hon. R. W. Bruhn issued instructions that work must commence on several highway building projects on the mainland and on Vancouver Island on September 1. The basis of Federal contribution is not considered by the Provincial Government to be satisfactory and will be treated as a temporary arrangement pending the return of Hon. H. H. Stevens to Ottawa, where he will present the viewpoint of the British Columbia Government.

Mr. Bruhn stated to-day that the province was preparing to employ large numbers of men as soon as preparation of camps is completed, but some time will be required for organization before maximum employment is attained. Between 400 and 500 men had been employed on erection of camps and roadways would start to-morrow, with several thousand men employed.

BIG PROGRAMME

Premier Tolmie has expressed the view that, although most of the important factors of the relief programme are still unsettled as between the federal and provincial governments, the telegram from Senator Robertson was sufficient warranty for commencement of work on the following mainline undertakings: The Transcanada Highway, between Vancouver and the Alberta boundary by way of the Big Bend of the Columbia River; from Vancouver to the Crow's Nest Pass via Hope and Princeton; eastward from Prince Rupert towards the Rockies; and the Thompson River Road, north of Kamloops.

On Vancouver Island the first undertaking on which men will be employed will be improvement of the Island Highway and construction of the Uclulet-Tofino Road on the West Coast.

Mr. Bruhn stated that no word had yet been received from Ottawa regarding the basis of assistance to be accorded municipalities in making provision for married residents. Whatever plan was decided upon would be based upon assumption by the government of the entire problem of providing for single men, resident or transient.

It is estimated that government assistance may be given towards the cost of materials used in public works, which last year fell wholly upon the municipalities. No decision on this point has yet been attained by the two governments. Premier Tolmie is arranging to interview the executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities on Wednesday morning.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—British Columbia led three other western provinces to-day in a race to provide work for thousands of unemployed men. Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works of British Columbia, announced 3,000 men would be placed on relief jobs before the end of the week in his province. Only a little later in starting unemployment relief projects, the Saskatchewan government expects to have 1,500 men placed in camps by the second week in September. Hon. J. A. Merkley, Minister of Labor, said relief camps would be opened at Moose Mountain, Cypress Hills, Loon Lake and Prince Albert National Park during the first week of the month.

Immediate plans of the Manitoba and Alberta governments were not available. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett conferred last week with heads of both administrations, and it is expected programmes for relief work will be announced in a day or two. To-day, Premier J. T. M. Anderson, of Saskatchewan, will make known the policy of a relief commission yet to be appointed. Fifty per cent of the cost of direct relief in Manitoba will be shouldered by the Dominion. Premier John Bracken said yesterday evening after a conference Saturday with Mr. Bennett. At a meeting earlier in the week at Ottawa between Senator Robertson and Hon. W. R. Clubb, Manitoba Minister of Public Works, the Minister of Labor agreed that the Dominion would pay 95 per cent.

Mr. Bennett had not acceded to the province's request, Premier Bracken added, that drought-stricken agricultural areas in Manitoba's southwest be treated on the same basis as southern Saskatchewan, where crops failed. Mr. Bennett was informed this province had 40,000 men out of work.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Major League Baseball Stars Are Distinguishable by Their Sleeves

"Daisy" Vance, Al Simmons, Lloyd Brown and Others Have Peculiarities

Comeback Attempts of Dempsey and Leonard Are Vastly Different

Jack Has Little Opposition While Benny Must Meet Tough Boys

BY THEIR sleeves shall they be known. Gray and white, year after year, gray for the road games and white for the home battles, is the way they have been tailoring big league baseball uniforms. The sleeves of a major leaguer's working clothes are the places to look for individuality. Don't trust his cap; they all look alike. And don't pick out his socks or pants; they all wear them practically the same. But the sleeves, that is a different matter.

Red jersey sleeves used to be the vogue. Bob Shawkey, who managed the New York Yankees last year, set style when he was pitching regularly in the American League. Bob seldom came on the field without his red jersey showing below the sleeve of his baseball shirt. Lloyd Brown wears them now. The blond Washington pitcher is a prominent figure with the brilliant red sleeve flashing as he lets loose a southpaw slant.

Every baseball fan has heard about Daisy Vance's sleeve. The story of Vance's long and flapping sleeve, it is old it's legend. He uses it to bewilder the enemy. A rip up the sleeve makes it flap and flutter when old Dazzy walks through his power right arm. Maybe you think that shouldn't bother a batter. Something does, though, as evidenced by his yearly strikeout record.

Take Al Simmons' sleeve. The Mackinac mauler wears "em long and loose. The majority of players order their sleeves chopped off at or near the elbow. But not Al. His hang long, the cuffs down around his wrists. Why? We don't know.

Some big leaguers play bare-knuckled—bare from the elbow down. Jimmy Fox is one. Lou Gehrig and Eddie Morgan are two others. All are first basemen.

There is something about a bare-knuckled ballplayer that suggests he has split on his hands and jumped in to give 'em a battle. The temperature often has something to do with it. But Gehrig has played bare-knuckled when the heat was far from being unbearable.

Perhaps you have heard the story of the ball game the Pittsburgh Pirates lost in the laundry several years ago. They were playing the Giants. Suddenly the Pirates started throwing the ball widely. Errors lost the game. Their new black jerseys, laundered but once on the previous day, shrunk when they became wet with perspiration, binding their arms so that they had no freedom of movement in throwing.

Sports pages all over the continent have been carrying a copy of copy righted about the comeback attempts of Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard. Dempsey has started his return in a blaze of glory, but Benny is still getting himself into shape. After thinking things over we are at a loss to see just what Leonard will get out of his return to the ring. He may be quite a bit of money, but he'll have to split with Jack Kearns, who is to be his manager. And he may soak up a few beatings while making the money.

There is quite a difference between the return of the two veterans. Dempsey is fighting in a division where there is only about three or four good men at the best. On the other hand Leonard will be fighting in a division where there are a lot of tough boys who will make the going plenty tough for him.

Leonard is supposed to be thirty-five years old. That is an age when most fighters about the comeback attempt of Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard. Dempsey has started his return in a blaze of glory, but Benny is still getting himself into shape. After thinking things over we are at a loss to see just what Leonard will get out of his return to the ring. He may be quite a bit of money, but he'll have to split with Jack Kearns, who is to be his manager. And he may soak up a few beatings while making the money.

Benny will get a fat guarantee for his first fight, regardless of his opponent or where the bout is staged. But what of the purses after that? They'll think of the Leonard that used to box "em around and knock 'em stiff when they lay their money on the line for his first fight. If he wins and shows some of his old speed and hitting power, they'll remember it when he comes out again. But if he takes a terrible lacing and perhaps a knockout, what will be left to bring them back a second time? And why would Leonard have for coming out a second time?

Jack Kearns is a shrewd judge of fighters and handles them as deftly as any man in the game. Kearns is enthusiastic over Benny's comeback plans. Perhaps the best thing we can do to accept Kearns's word for it that Leonard will be another sensation. Everyone would like to think Kearns is right, and that Benny will be a wow as of old. But isn't it pretty hard to forget what happened to Corbett and Jeffries and Britton and Dundee? They were tough, too, when they had it.

A crushing backward body slam in the fourth round gave Axel Anderson, Swedish heavyweight grappler, a thrilling victory over Cowboy Ray, Omaha, in the main event of the card presented at the Tiltum Gymnasium on Saturday evening. Ray was knocked unconscious and it was just a matter of Anderson picking him up and throwing him on his back for the third and winning fall in the fifth.

In the five-round semi-windup "Rocky" Brooks, Victoria heavyweight, and George Wilson, Seattle, former University of Washington football star, wrestled to a one-fall draw.

Anderson, a short stocky chap of tremendous bulk, appeared sluggish in the early rounds with the result that Ray had a decided advantage. In the first round Anderson threw on a couple of short arms, but a considerable punishment from scissoring and head scissors and armlock.

With the start of the second round Ray commenced to concentrate on his opponent. After working himself into position Ray succeeded in obtaining a headlock, but Anderson refused to quit and finally managed to break it. Ray dropped to the mat and threw on a single step hold, but the Swedish heavyweight was able to kick him self clear.

Still playing on his opponent's legs Ray secured another single stepover and Anderson was close to tapping the mat, to lose the first fall.

With the start of the third Ray managed to get another single stepover and Anderson was close to tapping the mat, to lose the first fall. Ray managed to get another single stepover and Anderson was close to tapping the mat, to lose the first fall. Ray managed to get another single stepover and Anderson was close to tapping the mat, to lose the first fall.

FIRE TRUCK

AND POLICE QUELL FANS

Spectators at Seattle Ball Game Run Riot When Umpire Awards Game to Home Team

Los Angeles Stalls in Effort to Save Time Limit Game; One Player Hurt

Seattle, Aug. 31.—All available police prowler cars and a fire company were rushed to the Rainier Baseball Park to quell several thousand fans late yesterday afternoon as a Los Angeles-Seattle Coast League game had been forfeited to the Seattle Indians.

The fans rushed from the stands and surrounded the Los Angeles players, crowding into their dugout, under Umpire Perle Casey had declared the visitors to be stalling in the fourth inning of the second game of a double-header, and had forfeited the game.

Meanwhile, the Los Angeles players were assembled and secretly rushed from the park by a back entrance in darkness to a train.

For nearly an hour, the fans, about half of the 8,000 who had attended the double-header, milled about waiting for sight of the visitors. Finally, with extra police unable to quiet them, a call was sent from the Columbia sub-station that a "riot" was in progress.

"WET CROWD DOWN" The call asked for reinforcements and for a fire company "wet the crowd down." Word was flashed to prowler cars by radio and the cars and the engine company raced for the park.

In the melee before the players left the field, blows were awarded to the visiting team, with Fred Haney, third baseman, hit a severe blow on the arm. Seattle players left the field unmolested.

The Los Angeles players were accused of stalling in order to prevent finishing a regulation four and a half inning game before an agreed time limit. The game was declared forfeited to Seattle, 9 to 0, after the visitors had won the first, 7 to 6.

A time limit of 4:15 p.m. had been agreed upon for the first game, but a train at 4:10 p.m. a complete inning remained to be played, with Seattle leading, 4 to 1. The Indians were battling and were trying to strike out the pitcher, who had replaced Petty, three balls low and high and the Indians kicked the ball around.

Manager Ernie Johnson, Seattle, rushed up to the umpire and demanded the game be forfeited. Finally after Scheskey apparently made a deliberate effort to delay the game, the umpire declared the game forfeited to Seattle.

The visitors won the first through two home runs in the ninth. Trailing, 4 to 6, Parrell, shortstop, hit a home run. Staught on at a fielder's choice, and Baker, second baseman, hit the ball out of the park.

The Indians took the series, four games to three.

DEMPSEY HELPS FIGHT GAME TO STAGE COMEBACK

Popularity of Ex-Champ Bringing Crowds Again, Says Portland Promoter

Jack Dempsey's return to the ring for a barnstorming tour, ending possibly in another bid for the heavyweight crown, will do more to put the fight game back on its old plane than anything that has happened in years, in the opinion of Ralph Gruman, the well-known Portland promoter.

Ralph was a visitor to Victoria during the week-end, visiting Billy Davies, trying his luck at fishing and visiting Butcher's gardens. "It is an old saying," said the Portland promoter, "that the interest in the heavyweight championship governs the interest in boxing all along the line. Dempsey to-day ranks a hundred per cent with the fans. Thousands are turning out to cards with Dempsey on the bill where hundreds used to."

"Eighteen thousand people paid $25.00 to see a record for the north-west when he appeared in Portland last week and he was given a wonderful reception in the ring and wherever he appeared in the city."

FOLLOWED ON STREETS The news spread that he was in a restaurant and in a few minutes there were hundreds around. When I went to get him for a broadcast a crowd of a thousand people followed him to the radio station. At his hotel there was a steady procession to see him and he is good natured about it. He meets them and shakes hands with them all.

"He's different to most heavyweights because he is a fighting heavyweight. There's no doubt about it he likes to fight. Look what he did in Portland. He was scheduled for four rounds. There was another opponent on hand so he remarked, 'Bring him on. Let's fight another couple of rounds.' Dempsey looks in the pink of condition. He is rapidly getting back into shape. He has speed, the famous Dempsey punch and the improvement in his condition now to when he started on his four indicates he's going ahead all the time."

"Whether Jack makes the grade or not, he is so popular that his return to the ring is going to mean a lot to boxing."

IN MAIN EVENT

GARTH VAN CAMPEN

Giant Seattle heavyweight fighter, who will meet Billy Campbell, Vancouver, in the six-round main event of the card being presented at the Bay Street Armories on Wednesday evening, the fight is being promoted by Joe Bayley for the Non-pensioners' Association.

Floyd Smith made his debut Saturday in the starting box and his initial effort was a complete success. He got every field away in fine style and there was not a single complaint all day on his side. Several times "Wagon" and his bulky and impatient field to handle, but he did it with the ability of a veteran. He will no doubt prove a popular starter with the Victorians.

Track officials were watching the jockey with hawk eyes Saturday and as a result five were set down with fines of $25 each for dangerous riding, while several others were let off with warnings that a second time the punishment would be more severe. The boys plastered with fines included Pevic, Pales, Marshall, Mills and Jackson.

An investigation Saturday that proved popular was the broadcasting of each race. Johnny Park, popular form chart compiler, proved a most capable announcer and a good deal of each gallop was quite interesting. In this manner the public is given first-hand information on how their favorites are making out while other fans are given out over the "mike."

The "daily double" operated on the second and third races again proved a popular bet and brought in $804 for $2 to the one lucky enough to select Graceland in the second and Cullacan in the third.

KELLY CELEBRATES RETURN Jockey Johnny Kelly made his return to the saddle on a British Columbia track after a year's suspension. He celebrated his debut by bringing home Cullacan, Ruth Parton's entry, in the third. The winner was given the benefit of a beautiful ride by this youngster, who proved so popular last season. Backed back in the field in the early running, Kelly made his bid. It was one of the prettiest finishes of the day.

Cal G. Shatters Track Mark At First Racing At Willows

Captures Opening Handicap at Popular Track in Record Time of 1:15 1-5 for Six Furlongs and Thirty Yards; Seven-day Meet Gets Away to Splendid Start; Five Jockeys Fined $25 Each for Dangerous Riding; Daily Double Pays $90.45.

Featured by the establishing of a new track record of 1:15 1-5, for the six furlongs and thirty yards, at Cal G., horse racing was ushered in at the Willows track on Saturday afternoon in impressive fashion. Everything went towards making it a perfect "opening day." The weather was ideal, the crowd was big, prices were good and several close finishes were witnessed. The Willows oval has always proved popular with Victorians and if Saturday's showing is any criterion a week of first-class racing is in prospect.

Paul Derringer Outstanding Rookie In Major Baseball

St. Louis Hurler Notches Fifteenth Victory This Year

Giant Kentuckian Proving One of Mainstays of National League Leaders in First Season; Has Only Six Defeats; Blanked Pittsburgh 5 to 0 Yesterday; Phil Collins, Philadelphia, Allows New York One Hit; Gehrig Hits Thirty-seventh Homer as Yankees Win.

Traveling at his present clip, Big Paul Derringer of the St. Louis Cardinals will have little difficulty qualifying as the outstanding major league rookie of 1931. He might even, with a little luck, finish his first season as the leading pitcher of the National League.

When he shut out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 0, in the first game of a double header yesterday, the former Rochester ace fixed his record for the year at fifteen victories and six defeats.

Although he set a brilliant record with Rochester last year, the 215-pound Kentuckian scarcely was expected to prove one of the principal cogs of the Cardinals' line staff in his first season in fast company. As matters stand, he is likely to draw a starting assignment against the Philadelphia Athletics in one of the opening games of the world series.

In setting the Pirates down yesterday Derringer yielded only six scattered hits. Bill Hallahan made it unanimous for the day by beating the Buccaneers 4 to 1 in the handicap.

PITCHES ONE-HIT GAME
The distinction of giving the day's outstanding performance, however, went to Phil Collins of the Phillies, who allowed only one hit in beating the New York Giants 3 to 0, in the second game of a double header. Francis Hogan's single in the second inning was the only blow of Collins.

The Giants captured the first game 8 to 2, behind Carl Hubbell.

Lefty Ed Brandt chalked up his seventh victory as the Boston Red Sox humbled the Brooklyn Robins 3 to 2, in the first half of a twin bill. Herman's home run in the ninth with O'Doul on base deprived the Robins of a shutout.

The Cincinnati Reds fell upon Pat Malone for four runs in the eighth inning to square their series with the Chicago Cubs 4 to 3.

Twenty-two thousand Boston fans watched the Red Sox take a 14 to 4 plastering from the New York Yankees. Led by Lou Gehrig, who belted his thirty-seventh home run, a double and two singles, Ben Chapman contributed a brace of home runs to the assault.

Using a second-string battery, the Athletics caught one of their frequent beatings from the Washington Senators 5 to 1. Myer, Manush and West led a fruitless attack on the veteran, Eddie Hommel.

Goose Goslin smashed six hits, including a homer and two doubles, as the St. Louis Browns turned on the Cleveland Indians and swept a double header, 8 to 3 and 5 to 3.

The Chicago White Sox committed eight errors and their pitchers allowed twelve bases on balls, but they defeated Detroit 10 to 8 in twelve innings.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
St. Louis Mo., Aug. 31.—Behind fine pitching by Paul Derringer and Bill Hallahan, the Cardinals took both ends of a double-header from the Pirates here yesterday, 5 to 0 and 4 to 1.

Derringer, in blanking the Pirates in the opener, ran his string of consecutive scoreless innings to twenty-one. Hallahan fanned thirteen batters in the nightcap.

The Cardinals bunched hits in the third inning for three runs off Spencer. Paul Waner, Pittsburgh right fielder, suffered a jaw fracture in the ninth inning of the first game when he was struck by a ball thrown by Catcher Jimmy Wilson of the Cardinals as he stole second base. The ball bounced into left field and Waner continued on to third base. He finished the game, but later was taken to St. John's Hospital, where X-ray pictures showed two fractures. One of the fractures apparently was suffered Friday, when he was hit by a ball.

PRUSOFF IS WINNER OVER JOHN EDWARDS

Local Player Gives Seattleite Close Run in Gulf Islands Tennis Final

Still another tennis title was copied by the dashing Henry Prusoff, Seattle, when he downed Commander John Edwards, Victoria, at Ganges Harbor Saturday in the final of the Gulf Islands championship. Prusoff, who has been having things much his own way in singles tennis recently, was given a stiff fight by the local player. He lost the first set, and only won the second after four-teen games, 8-6. From that point he neared on to victory quite confidently.

Mrs. Haggart, Vancouver, brought about a repetition of the Duncan tennis event by again defeating her townsman, Miss Vess O'Shea, in the women's final. Only two sets were needed.

Prusoff and Witt, Seattle, lost the first two sets to the young Victoria-Vancouver combination of Ronnie Kirkbride and Jack Brown in the final of the men's doubles, but turned about to take three sets in a row for the match.

Mrs. Haggart, paired with Velda Rithers, Victoria, secured the women's doubles award at the expense of Mrs. Ross and Vess O'Shea, both Vancouver, 6-4, 6-3.

Commander and Mrs. Edwards accounted for Jack Brown and Vess O'Shea, 6-3, 6-3, in the mixed doubles.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 31.—Chicago White Sox did their best to lose a ball game to the Tigers, perpetrating eight errors and their four pitchers yielded twelve bases on balls, but the Sox emerged victorious, 10 to 8, in twelve innings. The Bengals went into the eighth leading 8 to 7, only to see their adversaries knot the count. After three more scoreless innings, a double by Appling and singles by Jeffries and Grube produced two runs and victory for the Sox in the twelfth.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Washington defeated Philadelphia to-day, 8 to 1, but the victory failed to disturb the champions much. Their lead remains fifteen and a half games over Washington.

Connie Mack sent in a secondary battery, Rommel and Heving, and the Senators made the best of the opportunity. Myer, Manush and West led the Washington attack, each pounding out doubles.

Hitting of Goslin stood out of the Browns' attack, his six hits in eight trips including a home run and two doubles. His eighth inning homer in the second game with one on brought the Browns from behind. Earl Averill hit his twenty-ninth home run of the season in the eighth inning of the first game.

Dunn Brilliant To Perform Hat-trick For Everton Eleven

Crack Inside Right Gives Performance in 3 to 2 Victory Over Birmingham on Saturday as English Football Season Gets Under Way; Play of Everton Forwards is Feature; Tottenham's Defeat by Wolverhampton Caused by Experimenting With Young Players; Initial Defeat of Third Lanark in Scottish First Division.

London, Aug. 31.—With two matches of rare attractiveness and all the clubs in the football league in action, soccer opened up the 1931-32 season in England on Saturday in fine weather. The feature fixtures were the clashes of Arsenal, league champions, and West Bromwich Albion, cup winners, and Birmingham, runners up in the cup competition last season, and Everton, newly promoted from the second to the first division.

West Bromwich, who also won promotion, displayed distinct superiority over Arsenal and won by the only goal scored. Their late Second Division colleagues also won, getting three goals to Birmingham's two. Other First Division winners were Aston Villa over Leicester City, Sheffield Wednesday at Blackburn, Blackpool against Derby Wanderers, Chelsea at Middlesbrough, Liverpool at Newcastle and Portsmouth from Sheffield United.

Denoted teams from the First Division, Leeds United and Manchester United, won and lost. Leeds beat Swansea Town, while Manchester lost at Bradford. New clubs in league football did well, Chester downing Wigan Borough by 4 to 0 in the northern section of the Third Division; and Mansfield Town defeated Swindon Town in the southern section.

CROWD IS STUNNED
Fifty-five thousand fans collected at Highbury and got an unpalatable shock when the Thistles beat the great Arsenal machine. The brand of football played by both teams was below the standard expected, the keen tackling of halves and backs preventing much effective combination. The first attack came from the Albion, who by a series of short passing movements by both wings, forced a corner. An exciting scramble followed before Jack Richardson, finally made a fine run only to skim the Arsenal crossbar. Gliddens, the West Bromwich skipper, showed to advantage and following his made the Arsenal goal had two more narrow escapes before half time.

WIDEN SCORES OPEN
In the early part of the second half play favored the Albion, and after five minutes Gliddens centered for Wood to rush the ball into the net. Following a corner, Parker prevented a further score when Marier could not have saved. Arsenal then pressed strongly, but seldom looked dangerous. Runs by Gliddens and Wood were more threatening. Arsenal could not get together against the determined defenders, who protected the Albion's lead until the end.

The feature of the Everton-Birmingham match was the beautiful passing by the Everton forwards. They worked together with a deep understanding, and Dunn crowned a brilliant display at inside right by doing the hat-trick. Everton had the better of the opening exchanges, Dunn scoring after five minutes of play. Birmingham made occasional raids, but the international, Crosswell, defended soundly, following a clever bit of maneuvering by "Dixie" Dean, Everton's great centre. Briggs reduced the lead after twenty-five minutes Dunn netted, following a half-time play deterioration. Neil in the first half. Patrick played manfully in the second half and managed to level the score through goals by Ballantyne and Simpson.

Searts gave good value in their match with Clyde at Tin Castle. McKay put the ball through his own goal for one of their counters, and Murray had the other. Clyde made no reply.

DOES HAT TRICK
Armstrong did the hat-trick for Alderston against Dundee United. McDonald completed their tally. Milne and Logie scored for the losers.

Cowdenbath fought a 2-2 draw with Morton at Central Park. Frame and Venters scored for the home team and Johnstone, through his own goal, and Graham for Morton.

SPURS UNLUCKY
In Second Division fixtures Wolverhampton Wanderers and Tottenham Hotspur renewed last season's struggles for promotion which both missed. The Wolves won at Molineux grounds by 4 to 0. The Spurs' defeat was caused largely through experimenting with new young players. The Spurs were defeated in the first minute, but their attack was unlucky.

Notts County made a good start in the Second Division by beating Millway 2 to 0. Behind them in the first half Notts were definitely superior. Their forwards moved swiftly and skillfully, and only brilliant goal keeping by Wilson prevented an early score. Wilson, Millway goals, was beaten in the thirty-seventh minute of play by Haden's header. Roberts missed an easy chance of equalizing a minute before the interval. In the second half Notts monopolized the exchanges for long periods, but Wilson saved cleverly from Kestley and Fenner. Kestley eventually scored following a good run and centre by Fenner twenty minutes from the end.

Thirteen thousand spectators saw Mansfield Town make their debut in league football and score a deserved win at home against such old campaigners as Swindon Town. Swindon scored first through Norris after four minutes of play, but twenty minutes later Resdman equalized. Lewey immediately put the visitors ahead. Mansfield attacked strongly and Broom scored twice to give them a 3 to 2 lead at half time.

Glasgow, Scotland, Aug. 31.—When Third Lanark were defeated by Kilmarnock in a Scottish First Division soccer match on Saturday, they lost their record for having earned full points in every game this season. As Aberdeen and Falkirk were also beaten, Celtic remained the only club yet to lose two points in a match.

English Rugby Meeting Set For Thursday Night

Preliminary plans for what promises to be the greatest English rugby season ever seen here will be made by members of the local union at their initial 1931-1932 meeting on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Two proposed trips, one of a Canadian team to the Orient, and another of the Canadian Scottish to Great Britain, will be up for discussion. It is understood. The tour of the Dominion fifteen in Japan is looked upon as a certainty, as communication has been maintained with the Japanese union since the team from that country invited Canada to send representatives last year.

Organization of local leagues is also expected to be taken up. While nothing definite has been announced, it is rumored another trip through Canada is also being contemplated.

BRAMPTON WINS EASTERN TITLE

Toronto, Aug. 31.—Brilliant work plus some deadly shooting yesterday carried Brampton Excelsiors, holders of the Canadian and Ontario championships, over another obstacle in their defence of the Mann Cup, emblematic of national lacrosse supremacy. Clashing with Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, Quebec titlists, the Excelsiors surprised even their most loyal supporters by defeating the Winged Wheelers 6 to 2, in a keenly-contested game.

McIndoe scored for St. Mirren in the first half against Falkirk at Paisley. After half time Gibbie and Muir scored for St. Mirren against one secured by McGregor from Falkirk.

Celtic's six goals against Hamilton were equally shared by McGregor and Scott, while Moffat scored for Hamilton from a penalty.

Rangers were too good for Apr United at Somerset Park, having goals through English in the first half and McNeill and English in the second half. Queen's Park, the noted amateur club, are still without a point. Dundee blanked them by four goals scored by Campbell, one in the first half and another in the second, and Troup and Logie, both after the interval.

Leith Athletic surprised Partick Thistle at Firhill and earned a good draw. Leith scored twice through Neil in the first half. Partick played manfully in the second half and managed to level the score through goals by Ballantyne and Simpson.

Searts gave good value in their match with Clyde at Tin Castle. McKay put the ball through his own goal for one of their counters, and Murray had the other. Clyde made no reply.

FORDS WIN BALL TITLE

Defeat Taiyos 10 to 4 in Third and Deciding Game in Twilight League Play-offs

Throwing down tricky curve balls that held the Taiyos to eight scattered hits, Doc Todd, veteran hurler for the Fords, gave his team the third and final game in the Twilight Baseball League play-offs at the Royal Athletic Park Saturday evening. The automobile men finished at the long end of a 10-to-4 score.

Although nicknamed for one homer by M. Ashikawa in the sixth, Todd twirled in splendid form to restrain the smart Japanese squad.

By virtue of their victory, the mechanics won the A. E. Humphries Cup, emblematic of the city championship in their division. The trophy was presented to Wally Williams, skipper of the team, at the close of the fixture.

TAKE EARLY LEAD
Fords went out in front in the first inning and were never headed. By the fifth they had a lead of 6 to 2 and increased it in the final frames.

Ashikawa's homer, over the centre field fence, was responsible for two of his team's runs.

The victory made it three in a row for the Fords and made further fixtures in the five-game series unnecessary.

Do you wash "most of the sand" out of the spinach?

Spinach must be thoroughly clean to taste good. And rugs and carpets must be thoroughly clean to look well.

There is only one way to have thoroughly clean floor coverings. That is with either of the two wonderful new Hoovers. Model 725 is the finest electric cleaner ever built, 25% more efficient than any previous Hoover. Popular-priced Model 575 costs no more than an ordinary vacuum cleaner. Neither model has been increased in price.

SEES BRITISH POUND FLEEING TO CANADA TO ESCAPE TAXATION

Montreal, Aug. 31.—The influx of enormous sums of British capital for investment in Canada, over a period of two years, has been one of the factors supporting the market for high grade Canadian securities during the current difficult period, according to A. W. Blue, financial editor of the Montreal Star, in an article published in that paper to-day.

Initiated over two years ago when the land-tax question was prominent in British politics, the flow has gained momentum in recent months and runs into many millions of dollars. The article follows, in part:

"It is stated that local investment banking houses have handled as much as $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 for individual British clients, while numerous accounts run to more conservative denominations. "So persistent has been the flow of funds, and in such proportion that the movement is virtually tantamount to a 'flight from the pound.' Not inspired by fear that Great Britain will find it impossible to solve her problems, but rather by a desire to escape the growing weight of taxation in all its various forms, now so onerous a burden in England. "From the Canadian viewpoint, this movement is both interesting and significant. It reflects a confidence in Canada and her future possibilities as an investment centre which in turn implies commercial and industrial growth and progress."

GOLD PILES UP IN U.S.; DEBTORS PAY IN METAL

New York, Aug. 31.—A survey of the gold situation shows it will be only a matter of a short time before gold holdings in the United States will top the five billion mark for the first time in the history of the nation.

The gold reserve on August 26 amounted to $4,992,000,000, while impending shipments from South America will increase this amount. A shipment of $4,255,000 is being sent to New York from Argentina on the steamer Western Prince, and Uruguay plans to send $5,000,000. In addition receipt of $968,000 from Mexico was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. It became apparent that the United States would pass the five billion dollar mark when it was indicated at Buenos Aires that the Argentine government would meet the $50,000,000 notes maturing October 1 with gold.

King Prajadhipok Of Siam Honored By Trail Rangers

Banff, Alta., Aug. 31.—The King of Siam was formally invested with the Order of Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies Saturday.

In a simple ceremony in a horse corral on the side of Sulphur Mountain, Col. Phil Moore, president of the Trail Riders, and J. Murray Gibbons, founder and present secretary, presented the bronze button of the order to the Siamese monarch.

Not even a king may begin at the top of this unique organization that embraces members of high and low degree from all over the world. The king, in a brief speech of acceptance, made it clear that he valued highly the bronze emblem which is added to a galaxy of orders from the courts of Europe. He hopes to graduate to the silver button before he leaves the Canadian Rockies.

The king left immediately after the ceremony on a horseback expedition to the 8,000-foot peak of Sulphur Mountain. Queen Rambai-Barni, who is rapidly becoming an accomplished trail rider herself, joined the party at the upper Hot Springs, and she and the king lunched in the afternoon at the Dominion Government observatory in the clouds.

Thin and White—Couldn't Do Work

Mrs. Smart's Faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) Was What Saved Her.

"I became thin and white," writes Mrs. Jessie Smart, Newmarket, Ontario, "and could not do my work."

"Then I remembered what my mother used to give me, and I sent my husband out for a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He laughed at me, but he would not laugh now! I kept right on with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and now I work hard and feel as young as I did 20 years ago."

The iron and other elements in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills increase the amount of haemoglobin or oxygen-carrying agent in the blood—enabling the blood to carry more oxygen to the tissues. The increased oxygen re-vitalizes your body just as a draft of air kindles a fire.

The old standby, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is in every drugstore, ready to help you. 50 cents a package. 136

RAMON NOVARRO AT THE CAPITOL IN "DAYBREAK"

Popular Star, Supported By Excellent Cast, Playing in Excellent Vehicle

A great stage star once said, "A star is never any better than the individual acting strength of each member of his supporting cast." This thought was very apparently uppermost in Ramon Novarro's mind during the selection of those who aid him in his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayne vehicle, "Daybreak," which will open co-day at the Capitol Theatre for three days.

"Daybreak," first of all, is a story which demands a good cast. It is an adaptation of a famous stage play by Dr. Arthur Schnitzler, author of "The Affairs of Anatol." Those familiar with the delightful Schnitzler manner of writing, know that this great Viennese author is a master of deft characterizations. Inept players can never expect to appear at advantage in a Schnitzler story.

The tale first of all, is a sparkling continental romance, and a continental director, Jacques Feyder of Paris, was chosen to film it, in order that its rare savor should be retained intact.

Novarro, as Kasda, returns to the type of thing he did in his "Student Prince" days, as the gay young Viennese officer and adventurer in love. The object of his desires, Laura, is interpreted by Helen Chandler, the well-known stage actress, who scored in "Outward Bound" and "Dracula."

William Bakewell of "Dance Fools, Dance," Karen Morley, who had an outstanding part in "Inspiration," Kent Douglas, last seen opposite Joan Crawford in "Paid," Glenn Tryon, Clyde Cook, Sumner Getchell, Clara Blandick, Edwin Maxwell and Jackie Seale round out an unusually fine group of players.

BILLIE BURKE TO PLAY HERE IN NEW COMEDY

"The Vinegar Tree" Will Play September 28 and 29 at Royal Victoria Theatre

In the comedy hit, "The Vinegar Tree," which is illuminated by the facile art of Billie Burke, coming to the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday and Saturday, September 28 and 29, the noted comedienne is seen as Laura Merrick, a wife who is about to rekindle an old flame disappeared from sight and kept in the shadows for twenty years. The comedy is seen as Laura Merrick, a wife who is about to rekindle an old flame disappeared from sight and kept in the shadows for twenty years.

The old flame comes with a train of complications, including an innamorata and a penchant for the daughter of the household. When the adorable but scatterbrained Mrs. Merrick fully realizes the situation her emotions burst into something of a protechnical display.

But Laura Merrick is by no means the first not-too-young stage lady who hangs openly for situations out of "Balzac's" "Contes Drolatiques." Tochev, Sudermann, Strindberg, Pinero and Jones are all said to have treated on the subject of the repressed wife and madhouse. Maugham's "The Constant Wife" brought in variations of the theme, "Fata Morgana" and O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms" might also be cited. In "The Vinegar Tree," however, as in "Cradle Snatchers," the subject is treated entirely in a humorous vein.

Miss Burke represents a woman who imagines a past for herself, an amusingly affected person who bungles words and situations. In her rattled way, her attempts to revive a love affair of her girlhood days are entirely ludicrous. She is far from the sombre love-starved heroine of the European playwrights who touched on the theme. For Laura is a jolly, precocious person who laughs off her mistakes only to rush blithely to her next infectious ineptitude.

But what is perhaps more to the point, "The Vinegar Tree," provides the fascinating Miss Burke with an ideal vehicle. The star's vivacious personality, her charm and expertise in handling bubbling comedy situations, exactly fit the requirements of the stellar role.

"The Bat Whispers"

With Chester Morris At Columbia Theatre

Directed By Roland West, It Is One of the Most Thrilling of Mystery Plays

Instead of the "house of a thousand candles," it was the "house of a thousand lights" when Roland West, United Artists producer, directed the wide-film version of "The Bat Whispers," featuring Chester Morris.

The house of a thousand lights was the huge building holding two massive stages where the scenes were filmed. Use of the wide-film required the lighting of a much greater area than usual, although the light density had to be the same.

Every type of arc light from "spots" to "great, drumlike" suns were used.

In "Politics" Miss Dressler again shares her comedy moments with Polly Moran, with whom she has so successfully co-starred in "Reducing" and "Caught Short." Charles Rinner, who directed the former hits, also filmed "Politics," showing all this week at the Dominion Theatre.

How she defies the gangsters, routs the crooked mayor and his political ring out of the city hall the ludicrous "strike" of all the women in town against their husbands as an eleventh hour move to carry the election, are all mingled into a blend of drama and laughs.

William Bakewell as a reformed racketeer and Karen Morley as Miss Dressler's daughter have the two romantic leads. Roscoe Allen is seen as Miss Moran's husband and John Miljan plays the villain as Curango, the gangster czar.

Simon Peter, an Indian, was fined $10 or five days in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of being drunk.

The members of the Victoria Male Choir are reminded of the first rehearsal of the season to be held to-night at the New Thought Temple, Port Street, at 8 o'clock.

Damage to the extent of about $1,000 was done to the residence of W. H. Hurst, 805 Craigflower Road, yesterday evening by fire, which broke out on the roof and spread to the attic.

The serenade, "Good Night," and the value, "Queen of Beauty," were given the best reception at the Victoria Boys' Band concert in Central Park Saturday evening. Bandmaster G. H. E. Green conducted.

An awning over a cigar store near the corner of Government and Broughton Streets caught fire Saturday evening. The fire was put out by firemen before any other damage was done.

Two permits for residences were taken out at the City Hall to-day. E. J. Hunter is building a $4,700 frame and stucco home at 28 Marlborough Street. H. Clarke is erecting a $3,000 bungalow at 360 Foul Bay Road.

Firemen fought flames for an hour and a half before they were able to subdue an outbreak at the home of J. Milgram, Foul Bay Road, Saturday evening. A strong wind fanned the flames and considerable damage was done before the fire was put out.

A remand for another week was ordered by Magistrate George Jay in the case of William Maxam, facing a charge of driving to the common danger. The victim of the accident is still unable to appear to give evidence.

—Wills given probate in Supreme Court last week include the following: Ashborn Eek of Victoria, died July 18 last, estate $14,798; Alice M. Christie, died at Victoria on August 14 last, estate $7,370; Mary Lavina Rowe of Esquimalt, died July 27, estate $1,768.

Henri Turcot, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Athens, was in Victoria Saturday at the completion of a tour of information across the Dominion. He conferred with T. J. Goodlake, secretary of the local branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and also with officials of the Provincial Government.

During August building permits issued in Esquimalt amounted to approximately $4,500, it was announced by H. E. Ester, municipal engineer. This brings the amount for the year up to $55,245 against $40,000 for the same period in 1930. August permits were given chiefly for houses and garages.

Classes will be resumed at the Victoria High School to-morrow. Grades 10 and 11 will assemble in the auditorium at 10 o'clock. Students of the first year grade 11, will assemble at 11 o'clock. As classes are crowded it is imperative that all students for the current year should be in attendance to-morrow morning.

Hazardous fire conditions on the lower mainland and the southern part of Vancouver Island still prevail, according to the weekly report of the Lands Department. One hundred and ninety-four fires occurred during the week ending August 28, bringing the total number of fires reported to date as 1,820, as compared with 1,670 up to the same time last year.

Recently realty sales in Saanich are featured by the number of new arrivals from other parts of Canada who have purchased property. Pemberton and Son report the sale of a home on Obed Avenue by Mr. Raymer of Calgary, purchase of a fruit farm at Elk Lake by Mrs. Polyanak of eastern Canada, and transfer of the James Danell residence on Cook Street to Mrs. M. Greenwood, from the interior of British Columbia.

Paul Robeson, noted exponent of negro drama and music, will be heard by a special transatlantic broadcast to be released over the CBS to-morrow. Robeson is perhaps the most "omnificent colored actor in the world."

He is the first of all negro musicians to be presented on the stage, and since then he has continued to show a keen interest in the musical heritage of his race. The programme will be heard in Victoria at 1.15 o'clock over the CBS Pacific network, including stations KOL, KVI and KFRB.

The Victoria grid band, under their conductor, Fred T. Highfield, gave a enjoyable concert to a large crowd at Beacon Hill Park on Sunday. The programme consisted of a large number of songs well played, and an encore was responded to, Miss Dolly Rutledge being unable to be present, the song "Springtime in the Rockies" was sweetly sung by Miss Violet Marchant, and an encore of "The Star Spangled Banner" was given.

Contributions sent to headquarters View and Broad Streets, or to the treasurer, E. C. Smith, City Hall, will be gratefully received.

TELLS OF GOOD DONE BY DUCHY

Although a small and little known country, the Duchy of Luxembourg has played a great part in the unifying of Europe since the war, declared Baron Charles Pidel, who passed through Victoria yesterday aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada after two years in the Far East. All within a pacifist country, leaders in the miniature monarchy of Luxembourg united the great steel producing countries of central and eastern Europe in the famous international steel cartel, which since 1926 has done much to bring together former enemies in a union of common trade aims.

"We in Luxembourg believe that the formation of the cartel has promoted friendly feeling among the European nations, and we believe that through co-operation trade problems, which, if misunderstood, might lead to war, can be solved by such cartels."

Baron Pidel would not say whether he thought international cartels in other commodities, such as textiles or wheat, would have the same effect in international affairs as the steel cartel.

There passed away suddenly this morning at his home at 1526 Port Street, Alfred Gilbert Crafter. The late Crafter was born in London, England, sixty-three years ago. He had resided in this city for three years, and is survived by his widow and four daughters. The remains are resting at the B. J. Curry and Son Funeral Home. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

There passed away Saturday at the Alkazar Mansions, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Michol, daughter of the late Joseph Michol, 585 Commercial, County Cork, Ireland. The remains are resting at the Thomson and Fetterly Funeral Home and funeral announcement will be made later.

At the Jubilee Hospital yesterday, the death occurred of Arthur Alexander Moore, 523 Cecelia Street, aged seventy-eight years. The late Mr. Moore was born in Ontario and had been a resident of Victoria for thirty years. He is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter. The remains were forwarded by Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel this afternoon to Seattle for cremation.

The funeral of Margaret Devitt took place this morning, the cortege leaving Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 8.50 o'clock, and proceeding to St. Andrew's Cathedral, where Rev. Father E. M. Scheelen conducted mass at 9 o'clock. In the presence of many friends, many lovely flowers covered the casket. The pallbearers were: L. J. Marston, Karwin, J. Landers, M. J. O'Brien, O. Allen and Arthur Cownden. Interment was in Ross Bay Cemetery.

SEES ELECTION IN BRITAIN BY JANUARY

D. Davies, Swansea Publisher, Says Labor Party Impotent For Quarter of Century

Canada's Progress Depends on Substitution of Wheat For Rice in Orient

"For the next quarter of a century the Labor Party will be in the wilderness," declared David Davies, retired Welsh publisher and politician of Swansea, who returned by the Empress of Canada on Sunday from a tour of the Orient.

"With the ranks of the party split they will scrap like wildcats. The Labor party has shot its bolt on the Free Trade policy, which is an dead end. There will be a general election in Great Britain by next January, and there is every prospect of the Conservative party being returned to power by a large majority."

"The registration of voters will be completed in November and a general election will follow shortly afterwards."

Mr. Davies expressed the view that Stanley Baldwin would be the next Premier of Great Britain if his party was returned, although Neville Chamberlain was leading to the front in the Conservative ranks.

WEAK POLICY IN CHINA
Mr. Davies spent some weeks in China and covered the battle area in the vicinity of Tientsin, where the rebel armies under General Shih have been in recent conflict with the Nationalist forces.

"Many of the problems arising in China to-day," said Mr. Davies, "are due to the weakness displayed by the Labor Government of Britain in its dealings with the Chinese."

He mentioned the case of a recent mysterious disappearance in China of a British subject and the weakness displayed in the protection of nationals.

DEMAND FOR WHEAT
Canada, Mr. Davies believes, will figure largely in the trade development of the countries of the Far East.

He mentioned the case of a recent mysterious disappearance in China of a British subject and the weakness displayed in the protection of nationals.

China is turning more to wheat of the coarser grades, and he visioned the time when that country of 450,000,000 people would consume wheat in preference to rice.

There was more than philanthropy, he said, in the offer by Hoover of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China on long-term credit without interest.

WEST COAST TO GET SERVICE TO SOUTHERN PORTS

Ms. Hurryon Sold By Hobbs Brothers of Vancouver For New Freight Route

Vancouver, Aug. 31.—Last week the Vancouver M. S. Hurryon, owned by Hobbs Bros. Ltd. of this city, was sold to a company, McChie Transportation Co. of Vancouver, and will be used as nucleus of a West Coast service which it is expected will develop into a considerable fleet.

S. P. McChie, head of the new company, and subsidiary interests, is president, and J. W. Hobbs, leading spirit in bringing the marine building to this city, is vice-president.

These men are confident that a great future is assured on the west coast of Vancouver Island, with its rich natural resources. Mr. McChie is already heavily interested in packing plants there, and the Hurryon is to be run on a regular service from West Coast ports to California, carrying Coast freight south and fuel oil and salt north.

As the trade develops the new company will add more tonnage. It is said to be called upon to perform.

Mr. McChie, head of the new company, is a Scotch-Canadian by birth and has been interested in large development undertaking on this Coast for years. The Hurryon is his first venture north, and will leave some time this week. It is understood. For the last year, it has been carrying carrying tomatoes and other freight from the Mexican Coast to California ports.

TAX PREPAYMENT PLAN SETS NEW RECORD HERE

Total of $720,149.39 Paid Into Treasury With Rush To-day and To-morrow

Over $100,000 More Than Last Year's Total of $625,021 Anticipated By City

Taxpayers will keep the city treasurer's department busy until to-morrow evening when the period governing the payment of interest on prepaid taxes will expire.

There has been a steady increase in the prepayment of taxes since the inception of the system here in 1922, when the amount of prepaid taxes amounted to $625,021 for the eight-month period ending with the advent of September.

Up to the close of the business day on Saturday a total of $720,149.39 had been paid into the city treasury, it

School Rolls To Be Called In Morning

About 5,500 Students Will Be Back in Classrooms at 9 o'clock To-morrow When New Term Commences; Three New Teachers on Staff; College Year Divided Into Two Terms

When school registration is completed to-morrow it is expected that approximately 5,500 students will be in attendance at the city schools. There will be about 1,100 on the roll at the High School in the neighborhood of 4,500 at the graded schools.

To-day marks the termination of the summer holidays and the boys and girls of the city are returning to their studies with a determination to make the grade and with few regrets at the close of the two-month vacation period.

At 9 o'clock to-morrow morning the boys and girls, with their books, satchels and luncheon kits, will arrive at the various schools and will be duly accredited to their classes by the registration teachers.

ADDITIONS TO STAFFS
In line with general retrenchment, few additions have been made to the school staff.

Thomas M. Little has been appointed and will replace George A. Brand, successor at the High School to John Gough, the new vice-principal at the Normal School. Mr. Little is a graduate of the University of B.C.

Miss Violet M. Guy and Miss Rhoda Chisholm have been appointed to the elementary staff.

COLLEGE OPENING
The Victoria College year has been divided into two terms, the first commencing September 21 and the second January 4, it was announced to-day by George H. Deane, municipal school inspector.

For the session 1931-32 the college offers instruction in the first two years of the Faculty of Arts and Science (including Commerce), and the first year in the Faculty of Applied Science, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts and Science, Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Applied Science.

Courses preparatory to medicine, nursing, home economics and law will be given so far as the curriculum applies.

The schools of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt also open to-morrow.

NO DOMINION BUILDING HERE

D. B. Plunkett Back From Ottawa; Seaplanes Use Inner Harbor at Own Risk, He Says

Expressing conviction that the Dominion government will not undertake erection of a federal building in Victoria at this time, D. B. Plunkett, in written views that agitation for official approval of the Inner Harbor as a seaplane base was useless, D. B. Plunkett, returned over the week-end from Ottawa.

"The government cannot be expected to spend in one district the $800,000 or more which a federal building in Victoria would cost, in view of the large amount which is being required for public works designed to relieve unemployment," he commented.

Mr. Plunkett said he had pressed the question of approval of the Inner Harbor as a seaplane base, but the departments of Marine and National Defence determined not to withdraw their opposition. He said planes now using the Inner Harbor are doing so at their own risk, and that no responsibility could be laid at the door of any government department in the event of an accident. Esquimalt Harbor had been off-limits to seaplanes because of the greater expense of water and the more open character of the surrounding country.

SUPPORTS BLANK CHECK
He supported Prime Minister Bennett's insistence upon being given an unlimited order on the resources of Canada for use in meeting the unemployment emergency, and remarked upon the seriousness of the situation in the prairie provinces, especially Saskatchewan, where farmers had been reduced to poverty by a succession of bad crop years.

Mr. Plunkett spoke approvingly of the limitations to be placed on the expenditures of the Canadian National Railway. Declaring himself a supporter of the plan of the line, he said that the railway of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he remarked that competition had been unwise and had involved unnecessary expense, to be met by the taxpayers of Canada.

When the tax prepayment system was inaugurated in 1922, the total collected amounted to $190,889, which clearly shows the popularity of the scheme with the taxpayers of the city. The period from September 1 to October 1 will be a neutral one, as taxpayers will pay their taxes without securing interest on their money.

After October 1 there will be a penalty of 2 per cent on unpaid taxes, while tardy taxpayers will be confronted with an additional 3 per cent after October 16; a further 2 per cent after November 1, and another penalty of 2 per cent after December 1, making a total tax penalty of 8 per cent.

Mr. Smith stated to-day that the citizens are gradually being educated to the prepayment tax scheme, which is fully substantiated by the returns.

WILL NOT BACK HOLIDAY CHANGE PETITION HERE

Curio and Antique Dealers Seeking to Stay Open Wednesday Not Supported

Retail Merchants Group of Chamber of Commerce Against Petition

The retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce this morning declined to give its support to certain curio and antique dealers of the city seeking exemption from the half-holiday Act, in order that they might operate from the middle of May to the middle of September without losing the half-day tourist trade. The group stated it would not interfere with the act as it now stands and reminded the petitioners that any change would have to be made by means of an order-in-council.

About forty-five members attended the meeting.

Among those seeking exemption were Gabbott and Franklin, the Persian Art Store, Maurice Carmichael, Robertson's Limited, Montague Bridgeman, the Murdoch Antique Store and Bartholomew and Sons.

A. S. Denny of the Standard Furniture Company moved the vote against supporting the petition and was seconded by L. Batchelor.

NO DISCRIMINATION
Alderman H. O. Litchfield expressed the opinion that discrimination with regard to the act should not be shown. George Robinson of Robinson's Sporting Goods Store stated he did not like to see merchants selling goods by carried being able to stay open when he was forced to close.

The act as it stands at present permits bakers, confectioners, drug stores, cigar stands and various other businesses to remain open on Wednesday afternoon.

PACIFIC COAST WILL BE GREAT EMPIRE SOON

J. F. Bledsoe Tells Gyros West Will Be Seat of New Civilization

"It is up to you younger men to lay the foundations of a great Pacific Empire."

"You must build this empire up, build it until it is one of the greatest that mankind has ever known."

This was the gist of the message delivered to the Gyro Club by J. F. Bledsoe, guest speaker at the weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day.

In his opening remarks the speaker stated that he was going to make "an analysis of the comic opera that had landed us here," and might seem to digress from his subject of "The Pacific Empire."

"The reasons why we are here are deeper than the average person thinks, they are hidden from the common gaze and lie beneath the surface. Anthropologists, archeologists and other men of science are constantly finding new cradles of mankind. The latest one has been discovered by Dr. Boy Chapman Andrews in the forgotten reaches of the Gobi Desert. Eggs of saurians and traces of human residence, which are calculated to be at least 10,000,000 years old have been discovered and evidences of travel have been found."

"From this point of Eden people started to travel, whence they came we know not, but some mysterious urge caused them to travel. Even at that time the modern saying: 'Westward the star of empire takes its way,' seemed to be known," the speaker told his audience.

Civilization comes in waves, coming to a crest, breaking and then falling. Humanity in its travels makes pauses, performs a magic, picks up its time and builds up a civilization. In China, Assyria, Egypt, Rome, Greece and eastern America there have been pauses and a civilization has been built up, but always there is a compulsion to go westward. When the pioneers reached the Pacific Coast there seemed to be a cessation of this urge to travel to the setting sun, a cessation as if the travelers had reached the end of their long journey. The speaker told of his trip across the great plains in the early days by wagon when there was "nothing but primeval savagery."

"To-day," he said, "the plains are covered with towns, villages and cities, criss-crossed with railroads and highways."

The Pacific Coast has the natural resources of a great empire and civilization, the speaker asserted. "The mountains are veritable treasure houses of wealth only awaiting the magic wand of the miner's pick—to pour forth their riches into the lap of commerce."

The intellectual freedom of the British Empire, together with the concentration afforded us by fraternities of this kind, will help you build up the great Pacific Empire. You builders—you are all builders of this great empire, whether you realize it or not—have one of the greatest tasks that has ever been undertaken by members of the Aryan race.

Week-end prowlers broke into three places in the city, according to reports received by police, but the total loot only amounted to $1.50 and nine packages of cigarettes, all secured from the Naval Veterans' Club. The veterans' club entry was reported early this morning. The thieves gained entrance through a trap door in the roof of the building, then going down the stairs cut a panel out of the clubroom door.

They entered the office by breaking a pane of glass in the door and the contents were ransacked. They then broke into the lounge to steal the cigarettes. Two sets of offices at 1112 Langley Street of the Navy League, were also entered, but nothing of value was reported missing.

Next Wednesday Evening . . . a Splendid Concert

With such gifted artists as Mrs. Arthur Rieard, mezzo-soprano; Miss M. E. Bucklin, 'cello; Miss Adele Bucklin, violin and viola, and Dorothy Morton at the piano, the success of the concert in aid of the Victoria Junior Symphony Orchestra is assured.

Again the Steinway piano has been selected for an important concert . . . a distinction which the Steinway enjoys more often than any other instrument, because it is unquestionably the world's finest piano.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Wheat prices continued their downward trend against to-day's sinking more than one cent under the close on Saturday and getting into the daily bids, which caused slight reactions, but even these were difficult to hold. There was little future at the start, finally eased off, but there was moderate selling by New York and fair buying by Chicago interests on the scale down.

There was no exports out of this market and seaboard advices stated that all indications pointed to a very small business having been worked in North American wheats. Chicago, which was a little firmer than Winnipeg at the start, finally eased off, prices breaking from 1 1/2 to 1 cent. It was this break in Chicago that pulled Winnipeg down to lowest levels, the spread between the two markets widening, and at one time Winnipeg October was 8 1/2 cents over Chicago September.

In the cash market there was a very poor demand with little changing hands at spreads unchanged. There was no change in the flour situation which continues quiet. Russia continues to ship and offer wheat freely to the United Kingdom and is reported to be asking for no cash but is taking payment in goods at the same time. It is selling the wheat considerably under Canadian prices.

European crops are being somewhat reduced from previous estimates due to the unfavorable weather that has prevailed. Potential bullish features are numerous but the market at present lacks broad buying power, both for foreign acceptance and for investment purposes. Winnipeg closed 1 to 1 1/2 lower.

Coarse grains—These markets were very quiet to-day with nothing of feature going on. At the start there was a little buying of barley and rye, but the volume was quite small and no export sales were located.

Oats closed 1/2 to 1/4 lower and rye 1/2 to 1/4 lower.

Flax—This market was also quiet. No interest shown by crushers. Flax closed 1/2 to 1/4 higher.

Rising Railroad And U.S. Government Bonds Brighen U.S. Market

Canadian Press
New York, Aug. 31.—The bond market started the new week to-day with a more hopeful tone. Rising prices in railroad issues and moderate gains in United States government obligations caused the change in sentiment.

Good gains were scored by the treasury 4 1/2% of 1942-47 and of 1940-43 and the new 3 1/2% of 1940-49. The reaction of traders to the offering of $800,000,000 of 3-per-cent bonds, the lowest rate since before the Great War, was favorable.

Railroad loans continued to gain but nothing tangible developed to explain their strength. Baltimore and Ohio 4 1/2% of 1920, Illinois Central 4 1/2% of 1920 and Maine & Maine of 1925 made some of the larger gains.

FOREIGN BONDS DECLINING

Foreign bonds declined irregularly. Brazilian 6 1/2% of 1928-37, 8% of 1941 and 8 1/2% of 1942 dropped several points each, following announcement that amortization payments on the bonds of the Brazilian National Government had been suspended, although interest payments will be continued. Brazilian provincial issues are not affected.

Public utility obligations made small gains, although interest payments declined irregularly and narrowly. Stock privilege obligations held quiet.

Empress Of Canada Makes Fast Voyage

Comes Within Six Hours of Empress of Japan's Record on Trans-Pacific Voyage Completed Here Early Yesterday Morning; Brings Passengers and Cargo From Orient Ports.

Completing the 4,200 mile trip across the north Pacific in eight days, two hours and forty-two minutes, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada docked at the Bithet piers yesterday morning at 5:45 o'clock from ports in the Philippine Islands, China and Japan. She proceeded to Vancouver at 9 o'clock and reached the mainland port at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, only a week and one day out from Yokohama. She came within six hours of the Pacific speed record held by the Empress of Japan. The Canada lowered her own best record by five hours.

The big white liner averaged twenty-one knots from the time Capt. L. D. Douglas, on the bridge rang for full speed ahead outside Yokohama Harbor until the giant turbines were slowed down yesterday morning at 1 o'clock as the ship rounded Race Rocks. The north Pacific speed records are computed from the rounding of Yokohama breakwater to the reaching of Race Rocks. The trip was a fine one, Capt. Douglas said, with smooth seas and an absence of fog, although there had been some in mid-Pacific and as the liner approached the West Coast of Vancouver Island. Capt. Douglas will leave the Empress of Canada in Vancouver to take a shore vacation before resuming his regular ship, the Empress of Asia. When the Canada sails on September 12 Capt. A. J. Hatley will be back on the bridge after a six weeks' vacation cruising along the British Columbia coast. The King and Queen of Siam will be aboard when next the Canada puts to sea and special overhaul will be given the ship in Vancouver. The de luxe suite which the king and queen will occupy and about fifteen rooms adjacent will be redecorated and generally fixed up to meet with royal Siamese demands.

The Empress of Canada brought in a fair list of passengers, an average cargo and the usual mails yesterday. There were seventy-nine passengers in the first cabin, seventy-two in the second and 200 in the third and steerage. Several of these passengers left the ship here en route to Seattle. About eighty tons of cargo were left here while approximately 3,000 tons, including a valuable shipment of raw silk, went on to Vancouver. The United States mails were also left here. They amounted to 600 bags. About twenty bags went down to Seattle on the seaplane.

Among the passengers were H. Porter, general manager of the Peking Syndicate Limited, en route to England on the Empress of Japan; H. H. Nash, of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, on a visit to this continent with Mrs. Nash; C. F. Tobler, Philadelphia representative of John W. Wamaker returning from a business trip to the Orient; T. W. Kenkinson, insurance broker of London, en route home from Japan; H. L. Brant, prominent New York lawyer, returning from a business and pleasure trip to China; Rev. William Wynd, well-known missionary worker, en route to England with his wife and son; George W. Muddiman, manager of the Elk River Timber Company of Vancouver, returning from a business trip to the Orient; Paul Pollock of Bloomington, Illinois, returning from an extensive visit to Hawaii, Japan, China and the Philippines with his wife and two daughters.

RETURNS FROM TRIP THROUGH BELGIAN CONGO

Toronto Man Had Interesting Experiences in Heart of Dark Continent

A trip through the wilds of Africa for pictures, "just for a snapshot album," was made two months ago by James Haggart of Toronto, who passed through Victoria yesterday on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, returning from a voyage around the world. He had no special purpose in going into Africa, he said, except that he wanted to see the country and he thought a group of African pictures would go well in his album.

"Africa is a wonderful place," Mr. Haggart said. "Certainly a cool and leisurely holiday could not be enjoyed in the parts I visited, but for anyone in search of adventures, thrills and the unusual, Africa is the place. One never knows what will happen next, so to speak, what strange tribes will be met and what queer customs and, absolutely strange rites will be seen. I enjoyed my visit to Africa as I have enjoyed no other holiday," he said enthusiastically.

INTENSE HEAT

Leaving Eastern Canada early this year, Mr. Haggart crossed to England where he remained a short time before taking a steamer for Cape Town, where the trip through Africa was commenced. "Central Africa is no place for anyone not in the best of health," Mr. Haggart said. "There are many things to menace one, chief of which, of course, is the intense heat. At noon the sun beats down with terrific fury and it is necessary to run for cover and knock off for a few hours and rest. Then there are the great swamp lands that spread fever and disease, and it needs a pretty strong constitution to withstand everything. But for anyone with health the trip is worth the drawbacks."

At Capetown Mr. Haggart joined a party for the trip and proceeded north along the line of the Cape-to-Cairo Railway into Rhodesia. Until the party reached Belgian Congo the real Africa was not displayed. But up there, far from the sea and right in the heart of Africa, is a wild and fascinating land, Mr. Haggart said. There are the pyramids, and the oldest of wild African animals. In traveling across the Congo on caravan the party would come unexpectedly to native villages where evidently travelers are often expected now. The natives would come out en masse to greet the party and make everyone most welcome in a savage way. At two or three of these villages the whole tribe was elaborately painted and dressed and gave ceremonial dances in the way of welcoming which was highly interesting. These villages are right in the middle of some great forest and all the houses, built of straw, are up on stilts to keep away the wild animals that sometimes stray there. There are perhaps 500 people to a village, although some of them are considerably larger, Mr. Haggart said.

SAW WILD ANIMALS

Not once did the party have a thrilling experience with wild animals, although plenty were seen. But they were always within safe distance and were well armed. The native chiefs are the greatest hunters in the world, and several times Mr. Haggart went out under one of them. The chief still uses a huge spear, but the rest of the party is well armed with modern equipment in case the old and invariably trusty spear fails. Mr. Haggart secured some splendid pictures and took literally "miles of movie reel," he said, which he is looking forward to showing his friends when he reaches home.

From the Belgian Congo the party traveled across the Equator, which cuts the Congo, and went across Kenya to Lake Victoria Nyansa, where a stop of two weeks was made. This lake is an exceptionally pretty one and there are some fine resorts along it, Mr. Haggart said. Reaching the coast the party crossed over to Zanzibar Island for a visit before sailing from Dar-es-Salaam for India and the East Indies, en route to the Philippine Islands, where Mr. Haggart boarded the Empress of Canada and made the trip across the Pacific after calls at ports in China and Japan.

JELICOE TELLS NAVAL VETERANS OF WAR EXPLOITS

Would Have Had Germans Had He Known They Were Passing His Stern at Jutland

Toronto, Aug. 31.—Memories of the Battle of Jutland were recalled Saturday evening by Earl Jellicoe, Admiral of the Fleet, who in an informal manner addressed members of the Ontario branch of the Navy League of Canada at a banquet held here in his honor. In a simple and yet gripping way the earl, speaking to men of his own cloth, as he termed them, recalled the misty morning of May 31, 1916, which proved to be the dawn of victory for the British.

Episodes of the momentous event were reviewed at one part. Admiral Jellicoe became confidential. "If I had known the Germans had been passing my stern," he mused, and after a pause, went on: "Yes, I'd have got them." Then he added philosophically: "But it is one of those unfortunate things in life."

His recollections of that battle ended a whimsical and human sketch of his career as a midshipman, a lieutenant, a commander and finally an admiral. "There was not much pleasure then," he admitted. "There were responsibilities and no opportunity of knowing the ship's company so well. Life on board was a little dreary and monotonous. The principal recollection of the Great War was the magnificent spirit of the men, said the earl, who paid tribute to their courage and their patriotism.

MANY RETURN FROM TOURS

There were many tourists returning from vacations in China and Japan aboard the liner Empress of Canada when she reached this port yesterday morning from across the Pacific. Several members of the annual Upton Close tour party to the Orient were aboard. The party annually goes out to the Orient, the members returning to northwest ports of San Francisco, or proceeding around the world and returning by way of London and New York.

Mrs. Helen E. Gluck and Mrs. Florence Gross, socially prominent Victorians, were among the returning members of the Upton Close party yesterday. Others in this group were Miss W. Austin, Mrs. D. J. Stewart of San Francisco; Mrs. J. D. Gorman and Miss L. D. Gorman of Portland; and Mrs. H. H. Hensleys and Miss Hensleys of Seattle. Other tourists aboard the Empress of Canada were Cecil D. Hillis, with Mrs. Hillis, L. H. Hillis, Proctor E. Hillis, Miss Lois Hillis, Miss Celia Hillis, Dell L. Hillis and Miss Elsie Hillis, who toured extensively in China and Japan. This large family party passed through Victoria, June 20, aboard the Empress of Japan, outbound to the Orient.

Around the Docks

To move a large parcel of lumber for the Orient, the Tacoma-Orient freighter Bellingham is due here on Thursday, King Brothers, local shipping agents, said this morning. She will berth at the Ogden Point piers. The Bellingham will be the fourth lumber ship to load here in the last two weeks. The Bellingham was built in 1920 in San Pedro and is now registered in Tacoma. She has a length of 410 feet, a breadth of fifty-four feet, a depth of twenty-seven feet and is registered at 5,940 tons.

When the Pacific Steamship Company's liner H. P. Alexander sails from Victoria tomorrow evening at 11 o'clock for San Francisco and Los Angeles she will say goodbye to this port for the season. She has been sailing here every Tuesday evening, southbound, since May 12. During the winter she is to operate between Los Angeles and San Francisco. She will take out nearly 600 passengers tomorrow evening.

No word has yet been received from the captain of the Japanese R.Y.K. liner Shidzuoka Maru, which is due on Wednesday from ports in China and Japan. It is expected, however, she will be in on time and will probably dock alongside the Ogden Point piers in the morning. She has passengers and cargo for Victoria and Seattle.

The new French motorliner Washington is expected on Wednesday from France, by way of the Panama Canal and California ports. She will dock at Ogden Point and will spend several hours here, enabling her passengers to see something of Victoria. Most of the passengers aboard will be from Los Angeles and San Francisco, the call at Victoria being advertised in the south as a special feature.

Bound for Victoria and Vancouver with passengers and cargo, the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara sailed from Suva on Friday last. After a call at Honolulu on Friday of this week the Niagara is expected here on September 11 or 12. The motorliner Aorangi, which left Victoria on August 19, is to-day en route from Honolulu to Suva, on her way to Sydney.

For supplies for the remainder of the season, the Dominion Hydrographic survey steamer Lillico returned to the Government wharf in the upper harbor yesterday morning at 8 o'clock from the west coast—of Vancouver Island, where she has been doing extensive charting and other survey work in charge of H. D. Parizeau, chief hydrographer on the Pacific Coast. The Lillico left again at 10 o'clock this morning. She will return to Victoria for the winter months at the end of September.

Ottawa and Montreal Dispatches Tell of Plans for Cessation of Local Service

Business on Tri-city Route Not Normal and Not Paying; C.P.R. Can Handle Travel

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Discontinuance of the Canadian National Railways steamship service on the Pacific Coast is being seriously considered, Hon. H. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, stated today. The service runs between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle. Cessation of the service was recommended at the last session of Parliament by the special Commons committee which examined into railways and shipping on grounds of economy.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—The Gazette today publishes a special dispatch from Ottawa in part as follows: "Within a short time the government, it is believed, will announce discontinuance for the remainder of the present season, at least, of the steamship service between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, or what is known as the tri-city route. The step will be in the interests of economy solely."

"Two of the new and expensive vessels built for the Canadian National Railways Pacific service, namely, the Prince Robert and the Prince David, were early this year placed on this route. These vessels are large and of the ocean-going type, the Prince Robert having taken the Canadian delegation to the British Empire Trade Exhibition in Buenos Aires last winter."

BUSINESS NOT NORMAL
"Business on the route has not been up to normal this season and with two ships of the Canadian Pacific Railway also on the same route, there remained only a slight trade for the vessels of both lines. This summer the Prince David ran around in a fog near Port Townsend, Wash., and has not yet returned to the service, so the Canadian National Railways were obliged to maintain half the service with one boat, which has been going night and day with only a short time in any port, but even with only one boat the traffic is not paying expenses this season, and the government, it is understood, is anxious to discontinue the service rather than to keep the boat operating."

Heart of Liane

CHAPTER XI

The room was long and low-ceilinged and it seemed as if Liane was to be packed with ugly, comfortable mahogany furniture of the Victorian age. Mrs. Cleespaugh's big old house proved to be a curious dwelling.

"Mother's dining-room is pure Borgia," Clive told her that first day, with affectionate amusement in his voice. Liane had had to agree. The great, black, worn-out oak table with its huge polychromed candlesticks and the dark, red velvet curtains looped back from the windows, seemed out of place so near to the hall with its Chinese lacquers and gold tea box paper on the walls. Strange, strange house! Yet Liane never liked it. She was ugly and rich and comfortable. Her own room pleased her. The great bed had a priceless lace coverlet over rose satin. There was a puffy rose-colored down comforter. Not at all the sort of thing the young girl would have chosen but luxurious in a heavy sort of way.

"I'm dressing," she said, sitting up and blinking as she regarded the breakfast tray which Nora, one of the deft, well-trained maids, had set down on the inlaid table. Mrs. Cleespaugh had five maids, all Irish girls.

The breakfast tray was very modern, set with thin, sprigged china dishes in pink and white. The covered dish held golden toast. The fat little pink jar had honey in it. The tall, crystal glass was filled with orange juice. The bulbous pot poured the thin, amber stream of inviting coffee.

"Luxury!" sighed the young girl, throwing her cheap chalice dripping down over her shoulders and slipping her narrow feet into well-worn broadened mules. She dashed to the bathroom, where she splashed and showered, returning quickly to that alluring morning repeat. Nora had drawn the shades, shutting out the insistent summer sun.

Liane thought with a pang. "How mother would have loved this! The thought made a delicious food almost bitter for an instant. Then she remembered, 'It's what she wanted me to do.' Just the same, Liane felt a little guilty. Her mother who was tired and not strong, was starting out on that dreary business of touring. Not one night stands of course.

But Liane knew well the sort of dim, tawdry apartments and furnished rooms her mother would be able to afford in the various cities to which she would go with the New Art crowd. "Nothing like this," thought the young girl regretfully.

Then, being young, she forgot that guilty feeling and proceeded to enjoy herself wholly. Mrs. Cleespaugh had said authoritatively, "I never appear before eleven in fact. Perhaps you'd like to have a tray in your room?"

Liane had agreed that that would be delightful. Demure she had been. Quiet and tractable as became the young companion of an aristocratic old lady.

"I'm going to be happy here," Liane decided suddenly with one of those rare flashes of prescience which come occasionally to all of us. Why she believed that she couldn't have said. Nevertheless she did.

She got into her old, crisp white linen dress. Her hair was curled and shaped itself delightfully under her skillful fingers. "Poor girls are the ones who should be born with a natural wave," Liane reflected, thankful this was so in her case. "It's only the rich ones who can afford a hairdresser once a week."

She went down into the study where she began her morning task of straightening out the accounts, sorting mail, settling the envelopes which she knew contained bills. Her convent training stood her in good stead. She had been taught to be neat, methodical, orderly. She was clever at figures and she wrote a clear, feminine script.

"Honestly there isn't enough to keep anyone really busy," the girl thought as her slim fingers worked busily, surely, among the papers on the old walnut desk. She was puzzled at Mrs. Cleespaugh's desire to have her there. "It's probably more because she's lonely than for any other reason," she decided. Their afternoons were given over mostly to driving. If her employer was very tired Liane read to her in the late afternoon. If there were visitors Liane poured tea. Sometimes she worked in the rose garden, snipping leaves, spraying the bushes with a villainous mixture. In the morning, too, she was expected to replace the blooms in the drawing-room and study with fresh ones. This was a joy, not work, really. Yes, she was happy here.

And yet there was a restlessness under Liane's quiet contentment. She had the feeling she was waiting, watching for something to happen. "Hello," said a quiet voice. She looked up. Clive, the son of the house, dripping in his tennis flannels, stepped through the French window that gave on the terrace. "Hot!" he said sighing and wiping his forehead. "Isn't it?" agreed Liane. She looked up at him smiling and thinking she had never seen the tall, shy young man look so well. He held a white sweater on his arm. His fair hair fell in a damp, curling forelock over his forehead. "Heard from Elsie?" he wanted to know. Liane frowned. "I had a letter—let's see?—on Monday, from Boston," she said. "From mother. She said Elsie threatened to write me soon. They've been gone just a week. She reminded me."

"Yes, I know." His tone sounded careless, but as he went on, with a smile and a nod for her, she couldn't help wondering. How deep had his flirtation with Elsie gone? The actress was beautiful in a lush, ripe way. "She's the sort," Liane thought artlessly. "This particular young man seemed so shy, so reticent, one couldn't guess how seriously his feelings were involved."

"He's nice," she decided. Yes, that was exactly the word for Clive. Not exciting probably but good, dependable. She hoped, quite gravely, that Elsie hadn't trifled with his young affections. Elsie had a way of doing such things.

Mrs. Cleespaugh rustled in on the stroke of eleven. Her white hair was piled high. She was majestic in lilac-colored swish, her long, dangling from a thin platinum chain. "Good child, to get through all that stack," she approved, flicking the pile of checks and sitting down to sign them. "I thought we'd drive to Easthampton for luncheon. It's sticky, isn't it? Has my son put in an appearance yet?"

Liane told her Clive had gone up to change. "Ah, then perhaps he'll join us," said the old lady in a tone of quiet satisfaction. "By the way, my dear, I haven't given you your salary cheque yet. I think it would be better, perhaps, if I arranged to make that a weekly matter."

"Salary?" Liane stammered. "But I thought—mother understood my living was enough."

"Nonsense!" said Mrs. Cleespaugh disdainfully. "You're being a most efficient secretary. Certainly you're to have a salary. How does $30 a week seem to you?"

"It seems magnificent!" faltered the young girl, almost overcome. Why with that she could do magic things! She could have, put by a nest egg for her mother. She could buy herself new gloves. And her shoes were shabby. Perhaps—she flushed painfully at the thought—perhaps Mrs. Cleespaugh had noticed that fact.

The old lady was observing her shrewdly. "You're earning it, my dear, I assure you," she said with satisfaction. "No qualms are necessary."

Mrs. Cleespaugh touched a bell rope. When the fresh-faced Irish girl in her apple green uniform and crisp, ruffled apron appeared, the woman said, "Tell Mr. Clive I wish to see him when he is ready."

"He's out by the stables, ma'am," the girl reported in a few moments. "Van of the mares has a distemper, and Mr. Clive says he don't know will be able to come for a bit, he's that busy."

Mrs. Cleespaugh rapped her eyeglasses sharply on the gleaming desk. "Tell him I said to come at once. It's frightfully important."

Liane was disturbed. She had never seen the old lady in this mood. Perhaps his manner of his mother's explained the young man's sudden shyness, his hesitations and withdrawal. Liane sat quiet, hardly daring to lift her eyes.

"Want to see me, mother?" The girl looked up to see Clive, still in his damp and crumpled tennis things, standing in the doorway. "I certainly did. I want you to dress and lunch with us. We haven't a minute to spare. Leave the animal to Kelly and hurry." The old lady's voice was imperative. Clive said, unperturbed, "So that was it! Sorry, I am not lunching with you to-day." He turned on his heel. His jaw had taken on a hard line. His voice cracked. "Clive, did you hear me?" (To be continued).

CHURCH UNION WAS DISCUSSED

Anglican Communion and Old Catholic Churches Consider Reunion

Canadian Press

London, Aug. 31.—Steps toward the reunion of the Anglican Communion of Churches and the Old Catholic Churches were taken by representatives of both organizations at a meeting at Bonn in July, it was disclosed in a report issued to-day.

A joint commission conducted negotiations and agreed on the following points: "Each communion recognizes the Catholicity and independence of the other and maintains its own."

"Each communion agrees to admit members of the other communion to participate in sacraments."

"Inter-communion does not require from either communion acceptance of all doctrinal opinion, sacramental devotion or liturgical practice characteristic of the other, but implies that each believes the other to hold the essentials of the Christian faith."

The agreement will be submitted for ratification of the Synod of the Old Catholic Churches and to the convocations and synods of the churches of the Anglican Communion.

The Old Catholic Communion is a group of eight autonomous churches, seven in Europe and one in Chicago and its vicinity, whose centre of unity is the ancient See of Utrecht.

Relief Camps In Saskatchewan

These camps will be situated at Moose Mountain, Cypress Hills, Tunberry, Loom Lake and Prince Albert National Park.

As previously announced, park development and road clearing will be the work undertaken.

NAMED CELERY KING

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 31.—The title of celery king of the United States and Canada has been awarded to James Little, St. Catharines district farmer. According to word received from Cincinnati, Ohio, where an international fair is being held, Little was winner in the celery contest. He also took first place last time he exhibited there in 1926.

Horoscope

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1931

Astrologers read this as rather an unfortunate day. Adverse aspects seem to dominate. A time for preparation rather than action.

In the morning the planetary influences may encourage change of mind and general vacillation where important decisions are required.

Under this planetary government, deception is supposed to be easy, and for this reason care should be exercised to prevent fraud and double-dealing.

It is not a favorable day for all and oil interests. Much attention probably will be directed toward new fields and new ideas regarding their development.

Women should not seek to accomplish important business or professional work until late in the afternoon.

The seers predict that trade in women's wear and articles of adornment will be brisk as the month advances, for dress will assume extraordinary importance.

This should be a propitious away under which to present any sort of entertainment. News in theatre-management circles are forecast.

News of an exciting or disquieting nature may be received while this configuration prevails.

Lovers should be careful in writing letters at this time, which is unfavorable for romance.

This should be a fortunate day for entertaining and women may safely take advantage of it.

Mercury is in a place supposed to stimulate reform work in many lines. Welfare organizations are well-served.

Russia is subject to a rule of the stars making its policies changeable and likely to conform more closely to old-time standards. Persons whose birthdate is 1 have the augury of a year of more or less anxiety, but they have the promise of success. They may be tempted to be extravagant.

Children born on this day probably will show great firmness and determination of character. The subjects of this sign of Virgo usually have initiative and resourcefulness.

Those who have celebrated it as a birthday include Lady Bunsby Digmore, 1791 poet, and Marguerite, Countess of Blessington, 1789, noted Irish author.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily Goes Home

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was asleep in his automobile. So was Mr. Twistytail, the jolly, fat pig gentleman. The automobile, with its red, pink, blue and yellow snakes curled around the wheels for tires, stood in the woods. But the snakes were not asleep. They were talking among themselves in the hewing way that snakes talk—like steam radiator on a cold morning. Said the pink snake to the red snake:

"I think we can no longer be tires for Uncle Wiggily's auto. We have been rolling around long enough. It is time we went home."

"I think so, too," said the yellow snake.

You remember, after Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail set out for an adventure ride in the bunny's auto, a hungry tramp dog ate the bologna sausage tires. Then Uncle Wiggily got some jolly old snakes to curl around the auto wheels to act as tires. But now the tire snakes were tired of being tires, so to speak.

"You remember, after Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail set out for an adventure ride in the bunny's auto, a hungry tramp dog ate the bologna sausage tires. Then Uncle Wiggily got some jolly old snakes to curl around the auto wheels to act as tires. But now the tire snakes were tired of being tires, so to speak."

"What's that noise?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as he opened his eyes.

"What noise?" grunted Mr. Twistytail, as he, also, awakened.

"That hissing sound," said Mr. Longears.

"We missed," said the Yellow snake. "We are sorry, Uncle Wiggily, but we can no longer be tires for you. We must go home."

"Well, that's all right," spoke the rabbit gentleman. "I could not expect you to be my auto tires much longer. You have done me a big favor. I am also going home. My adventure trip is over."

"Yes, but listen here, Wiggy," said Mr. Twistytail. "The rabbit has bought four large, round bologna sausages as tires for the four wheels of his car. Then he bought an extra one for a spare. Now you may crawl along home, my good snakes," said Uncle Wiggily. "And I thank you very much for your kindness."

"We were glad to be of help to you, Uncle Wiggily," hissed the red, pink, blue, yellow and purple snake all together. Then they twiggled off through the woods, and when Mr. Twistytail and Uncle Wiggily had put the sausage tires on the auto, into the car they hopped and began to ride home.

"I wonder if we shall have an adventure on the way home?" asked Mr. Twistytail of Uncle Wiggily, as they motored along.

"Perhaps," answered the rabbit. "I don't know what kind it will be, but I'm sure we'll have one."

Just then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily's auto ran into a deep mud hole, or bog, and there it stuck. "The hole was so deep and the mud was so sticky that the auto was held fast."

"Dear me! What's this?" grunted the pig.

"I should say it was an adventure," said Mr. Longears.

"And not a very jolly one, either," grunted the pig. "How are we to get home now when we are stuck in the mud?"

"I'll give her plenty of gas and see if she will pull out," said Uncle Wiggily, speaking of his car as "she."

But though he turned on all the power the car was still stuck in the mud hole and it began to look as if Uncle Wiggily and Mr. Twistytail would have to stay there all night. But, all of a sudden, a crashing noise was heard in the bushes and the pig exclaimed:

"Here comes another adventure."

"No," said Mr. Longears, "it's the jolly old elephant that used to work in a circus. He'll pull us out of the mud."

"Surely I will," said the elephant. Standing on firm ground he reached out his long, hoarse trunk, took hold of the car with a "toe" and three, out of the mud he pulled it.

"Now we're all right," said Uncle Wiggily, "Thank you, elephant."

"You are welcome," said the big circus animal. Then he went off through the woods singing, Uncle Wiggily rode home in the auto with Mr. Twistytail and all was well. And if the carpal sweeper will please take the dust off the piano for the broom to play with I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Jimmie the duck.

ECONOMY MOVES IN BRITAIN SOON

London, Aug. 31.—The London Daily Mail to-day said many of the necessary economies of the new National Government of Great Britain would be effected by order-in-council, which would not require immediate parliamentary sanction. It would only be necessary that the Privy Council meet and the orders be put in force.

The council, however, does not possess the power to impose new taxation, nor would it be enabled to reduce the standard rate of the dole.

The London Daily Herald, Labor organ, said foreign investments totaling about $600,000,000 belonging to insurance companies and investment houses had been frozen during the last few days and offered to the government and the Bank of England for use in defending the pound, sterling against any fresh attacks.

Somehow It Seems to Be Necessary for a Man to Look Down Upon a Woman, and Especially Upon His Wife — Which Means That Wives Must Be Clever Enough Not to Show How Clever They Really Are, Says Dorothy Dix

ACCORDING to a learned psychologist, gentlemen do not prefer blondes but Dumb Dora. It is not what is on the outside of their heads that gets girls dates and husbands and things, but what is inside of their little brains and, according to this authority, the emptier they are the better. A lot of evidence can be brought forward to support this contention. For it is a well-known fact that the most popular girls in any circle of society are never the cleverest ones and that any baby-talk flapper can marry six times to a college graduate's once. Men flee, as from a pestilence, from the cultivated young woman who seeks to engage them in serious conversation about the Einstein theory and the trend in modernistic art, but they flock like bees around the maiden who rolls her eyes at them and asks them fool questions and tells how big and wise and wonderful they are.

Go back in history as far as you like and you will find that men have never had any appetite for feminine brains unless they were scrambled. Indeed, up to a few years ago no other scandal about a woman as for her to be called "strong-minded," and a girl who was really intelligent concealed her terrible misfortune as carefully as she would a physical blemish or a blot on her character.

Curiously enough, this fatal attraction that the moronic female has for men is not confined to men who are themselves dull and stupid and ignorant. The intellectuals succumb to it also, and so we are daily confronted with the spectacle of brilliant men married to fool women or husbands and wives who do not speak the same language nor have a thought nor an interest in common.

Among our acquaintances we can all pick out couples in which the man is a book worm and the women never read even a sixth best seller; where the husband is a wit and the wife can't see a joke even after it is diagrammed for her; where the man is a learned savant and the wife murders the king's English and we are filled with a never-ceasing wonder why these men didn't pick out wives in their own intellectual class instead of electing to spend their lives with mates who were on a so much lower mental level.

One would think that such unequal marriages must inevitably end in disaster and that in time the clever man would be bound to tire of his dull wife, but such is by no means the case. In reality a man is much more apt to be happy married to a nitwit than he is to a genius.

For somehow it seems to be necessary for a man to look down upon a woman, especially to look down upon his wife, and to not only feel his superiority to her, but to have it recognized by the world. You will find no contented homes in which the grey mare is the better horse. No adoring husbands who have to take a back seat while the spotlight is turned on their wives for some intellectual achievement. It pleases a man to have you praise his wife for her beauty, or her goodness, or her domesticity, but you will never make a hit with him by praising his wife's brains.

I have never known a successful marriage in which the wife had more sense than her husband had. Nor one in which the wife was a better business man than her husband nor better educated than he was, and this was not because of any arrogance on the woman's part or because she ever criticized him, but just because the man could not endure the knowledge that his wife was cleverer and knew more than he did. Nearly always the husbands of superior wives are unfaithful to them and seek the society of twittry little Jones who will regard them as oracles and burn incense before them.

It is because this worshipful attitude in a woman is so soothing to a man's vanity that he not only picks out the woman with a modicum of grey matter for a wife but finds her an agreeable life partner. For adulation is one of the things on which we never get fed up, and it far more delightful to our ears to listen to hymns of praise than even the wittiest wisecrack. Furthermore, no man ever finds out that his wife is lacking in intelligence so long as she considers him the greatest man in the world. On the contrary, he considers that she is a woman of most unusual judgment and perspicacity.

But here is the paradox. While men don't want women ever to display any brains, they want them to really have them. They want their wives to be clever enough to manage them without their knowing it, to keep them entertained and amused and to have enough sense to run their households thrifly and make a good appearance in society. Only they must never let it appear that it took any intelligence to do these things.

And that is another one of the things that makes it so difficult to be a woman, because to be a successful wife a woman must be so all-fired intelligent that she can hide from her husband how smart she really is.

WEST VIRGINIA MAN STATES HE KILLED SEVERAL

Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 31.—Harry F. Powers, forty-five, suave West Virginian, who police said confessed to mass killings as a means of livelihood, added another ghastly chapter late yesterday to the story of his career as a modern-day Bluebeard. He confessed to the killing of Mrs. Dorothy Freese Lemple, fifty, of Northboro, Mass., whose body was the fifth to be uncovered in a sewer trench on Powers' "murder farm" near this city.

At the same time, police stated, Powers described for the first time the means he had employed in killing his other four victims—Mrs. Asta Buick Elcher, widow of Park Ridge, Ill., and her three children. Powers—or Cornelius Pearson, as he often styled himself—told of how he lured his women victims to this city through extravagantly worded advertisements in matrimonial agency periodicals with a view to obtaining their property and bank accounts. He slew the five persons, all on the same evening, by hanging.

The two women came to Clarksburg "about August 1." Powers was quoted as relating. Early in the day he took the Illinois widow and her three children to the oddly constructed garage he had built on the outskirts of Clarksburg, and made them prisoners in individual sound-proof tin chambers, specially-fashioned in the basement of the small, frame building. The hangings, he said, followed. Powers was asked how many persons he had slain. He replied quietly, "I don't know."

TEST PIECES FOR FESTIVAL ANNOUNCED

Selections For Junior Choral and All Piano Solo Classes Published

Test pieces in junior choral and piano solo and duet classes for the 1932 Victoria Musical Festival have just been announced. The choral events, which draw a large number of entries from the city's public schools, are quite numerous, and are open to choirs from grades 1 and 8. A representative group of selections has been chosen for the piano competition. It is interesting to note that one of the senior pieces is the "Romance in D," a composition by the modern Scandinavian composer, Sibelius, several of whose symphonies were played by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra in its radio broadcasts.

The Musical Festival Association has nearly completed the syllabus for next year's festival, and the test pieces selected will be made public as soon as possible, so as to give intending competitors plenty of time to prepare.
